Tornadic winds hit Charleston

CHARLESTON — A semi-trailer was blown over and a van and mobile home destroyed about 4 p.m. Tuesday by tornadic winds which struck the area around one-half mile south of Charleston. No injuries were reported.

The semi-trailer, parked on the rear lot at the truck stop, was blown over. The trailer is owned by Baggett Transportation Co. of Birmingham, Ala.

A mobile home owned by Courtesy Ford Sales of Charleston and parked about 200 yards southeast of the truck stop was destroyed when it blew across a van into an eight- foot chain link fence. The van was also destroyed.

The trailer was the home of Mike Reihn, an employe of Courtesy Ford Sales who was not at home when the storm struck. The van was parked on the Courtesy firm's lot.

The apparent tornado also damaged some guttering and awnings attached to the truck stop. According to the highway patrol, the suspended ceiling inside the office of the truck stop was destroyed, but no damage was reported to the roof of the building.

Stan Jones, an engineer for Missouri Utilities Co. in Charleston, reported today that the winds whipped a line, breaking it in two near

High winds overturn trailer

Tornadic winds ripped through a truck stop and house trailer just south of the Charleston interchange on Interstate 57 late Tuesday. At Cross Truck stop on Highway 105 an empty trailer rig was flipped by the high winds. Some damage occurred in the offices, where ceiling panels were buckled and furniture and papers blown around. How they voted on impeachment

NEW MADRID —The vote by city aldermen in a closed impeachment hearing Monday night against City Marshal O. E. Householder has been disclosed by Aldermen Bill Boyd and Ras Jones, who said Boyd, Joe Hunter, Ed LaValle and George Dawson voted in favor of impeaching the marshal.

Jones disqualified himself and did not vote, and Alderman John A. Hunter voted no to the action.

In Tuesday's edition of The Daily Standard, it was stated that Boyd, Jones, LaValle and Dawson reportedly voted for impeachment and that Joe Hunter and John A. Hunter abstained.

Impeachment proceedings were initiated against the 20-year veteran marshal following an April 21 fracas with Alderman Jones in which a gun was allegedly fired by Householder which injured both men.

Wrong relative

Deborah Lynn Hill, 618 Dempster St., who was injured Monday in a two-vehicle accident at the intersection of Salcedo Road and North Main Street, is not the wife of Paul Hill, as reported in Tuesday's edition of The Daily Standard. She is his daughter.

She was treated for minor injuries at Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

No flooding expected South of the Cape area

No flooding is anticipated along the Mississippi River south of the Cape Girardeau and Cairo, Ill. area, according to Bob Hume, public affairs officer for the Memphis District of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Hume explained that the lower Mississippi River will not flood even if there is high water and flooding on the upper Mississippi, as long as the Ohio River remains at a low stage.

He added that at this time, they are not even anticipating the river to reach flood stages below the Cape Girardeau area. The Memphis District covers the area from Cape Girardeau to near Rosedale, Miss.

Mississippi River flood stages in the Bootheel area today were 29 feet at New Madrid, 28 feet at Caruthersville, 28.9 feet at Chester, Ill., and 32.5 feet at Cape Girardeau.

The river will crest at 37 feet in Cape Girardeau on Sunday, 31.5 feet in New Madrid on Monday and 32.5 feet at Chester on Saturday. The figures are above flood stage only at Chester and Cairo. The Ohio River has been falling but today began to rise slightly at Golconda and Paducah, but is rising at Cairo and will crest at 42 feet Monday. This will be two feet above flood stage at Cairo.

Although the river at Cape Girardeau is expected to rise above flood stage of 32 feet on Wednesday and crest at 38 feet on Sunday, engineers and levee district officials in that area are not expecting any serious flooding.

Rain from areas to the north of Southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois are swelling the Mississippi in Eastern and Southeastern Missouri this week, and a massive cleanup effort began Monday in portions of northwest Missouri as flooding rivers and streams began to recede.

The St. Louis Corps of Engineers district reports that it has entered the first phase of a flood watch during which it will continue to watch for additional rises and provide assistance to levee officials.

Hundreds were forced from their homes in portions of northwestern Missouri over the past weekend. The flooding hit communities in Clay, Platte and Jackson counties as up to seven inches of rain fell on the Kansas City area in a 48-hour period starting last Thursday night.

The Red Cross estimated that nearly 600 families suffered losses from the flood in the three counties. Damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

More rain is predicted in the Southeast Missouri area, over the weekend although this should not affect the river stages to a great extent. The forecast calls for partly

State motorists exceeding limit

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Many Missouri motorists have gone back to their bad habits after initially complying with the new lower speed limit, says Col. Sam S. Smith, superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol.

But the patrolmen are handing out more tickets than ever, and some of the magistrates and municipal court judges are complaining about the increased work load, Smith said.

"One judge even suggested we send him some secretarial help to take care of the backlog," Smith said.

In addition to letters from magistrates, Smith says he's getting a lot of letters from motorists who say other drivers are exceeding the new 55 miles an hour limit and patrol cars can't be seen.

"If the trend continues maybe an adjustment is in order," Smith said Tuesday, suggesting the limit might be raised to 60 or 65 mph on the interstate highways.

The former limit before March 4 was 70 mph. The new state law will keep the 55 mph limit in effect until Sept. 28, 1975, or until Congress or the President declare the energy crisis is over and the speed limits can be increased.

If the governor or the legislature raises the limit above 55 before the Department of Transportation and the President give the go-ahead, Missouri could lose its federal highway funds.

Patrolmen say people are going faster again after generally observing the lower speed in March and the first part of April.

"One factor," Smith said, "is that drivers are taking their chances and paying a fine, knowing the ticket won't count on their penalty points on revocation of their license."

A provision in the new law says penalty points will be assessed only on speeding violations over 70 mph.

The punishment for speeding can vary from $10 to $25 and higher, since magistrates have different formulas and usually add the court costs to the bill. Most magistrates assess so many dollars per mile of excessive speed.

Even before the 70 m.p.h. limit was lowered, the speed limit for trucks over 12,000 pounds in Missouri was 60 mp.h.

Girl almost drowned under open hydrant

A 15- year- old girl, injured Monday evening during roughhousing around an open fire hydrant, was released from Missouri Delta Community Hospital Tuesday afternoon.

City officials today issued a warning that unauthorized individuals found opening fire hydrants will be prosecuted.

Rose Mary Johnson, 206 Dixie St., was nearly drowned shortly after 5 p.m. Monday when a group of youths reportedly held her head under an open hydrant at the corner of Ford and Alabama streets.

The girl was taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital, where she was treated overnight.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Jessie Lane, said Tuesday that police officer Jessie Redd stood by while the incident occurred and did nothing to help her daughter.

However, in his report on the incident, Redd said he did not know the girl had been held under the water.

Redd said a group of children were playing around the open hydrant when he arrived. He said he told them over his loud speaker to close the hydrant, and they did.

About that time, Redd said he saw the Johnson girl "stagger out of the crowd and drop to the ground."

Before he could get to the girl, she was picked up by friends and carried into the Pearlie White home, 216 Alabama St., Redd said.

Redd said he thought the girl was all right when her mother left the White home.

Acting City Manager Bill Whitlock said three hydrants were opened by unauthorized persons in Sikeston during the recent hot spell.

Whitlock warned that this is a violation of a city law and anyone caught opening hydrants will be prosecuted. He said the warning grew out of general concern over the opening of hydrants and not out of the incident involving the Johnson girl.

Whitlock said open hydrants waste water and lower water pressure in the vicinity. If a fire occurred in the area, firemen could be hampered in trying to get enough water to fight the fire, he said.

Dexter child, 4, drowns in ditch

DEXTER — John Randall Peacock, 4- year - old son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Peacock of 616 N. Locust St., was pronounced dead at Dexter Memorial Hospital at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday from accidental drowning after falling into a rain- swollen ditch at 6:17 p.m. near his home.

According to the highway patrol, the child fell into the ditch at the corner of Locusts and McCollum streets. His body was recovered by an older brother, Mike Peacock, and Dexter policeman Danny Austell five to 10 minutes later four blocks from where he fell into the water.

Dexter police reported today that the boy was playing with three other youths, two of whom were older brothers, when he accidentally toppled into the ditch.

Mouth- to mouth resuscitation was given to the victim by Dexter police officer Jerry Johnson and highway patrol Sgt. K. L. Lancaster. He was then taken to Dexter Memorial Hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 7:15 p.m.

He was born Dec. 5, 1969 at Macon to Johnny and Faye Thomasson Peacock of Dexter, who survive.

Other survivors include five brothers, Scotty and Jimmy Peacock of Shelbina and Michael, Jerry and Phillip Peacock of the home; one sister, Rena Peacock of the home; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Thomasson of Dexter; and his paternal grandfather, Albert Peacock of Clarkton.

Services are scheduled at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at Watkins and Sons Funeral Home with the Rev. Glen Seagraves officiating.

Burial will be in Hagy Cemetery.

Ambulance garage to be on hospital lot

Missouri Delta Community Hospital has decided against building an ambulance garage on a triangular piece of ground along Plaza Drive, the Planning and Zoning Commission learned Tuesday night.

The hospital had notified the city it wanted to build a garage on a piece of land the city is buying from the state. The garage was to house two extra ambulances, while two others would be housed next to the hospital.

Instead, the ambulances will be kept in a garage built on the hospital grounds, according to Kendall Sikes, chairman of the hospital board.

Sikes said the hospital would take the land and maintain it if the city wanted to give it to the hospital. He said the land would present a constant maintenance problem to the city.

Acting City Manager Bill Whitlock said the city hasn't received title to the land yet and suggested the commission wait until it does before making any recommendations. The commission then tabled the matter.

The commission recommended the rezoning of lot 8, block 2 of the Dement and Ziegenhorn Subdivision from commercial to single family. The land is located between the Frisco Railroad tracks and lots along the north end of Davis Boulevard.

Most of the land is owned by adjacent property owners.

Bond set at $100,000 for Curtis

NEW MADRID — Judge Leo Hedgepeth set bond at $100,000 for Lindol Curtis, 39, of Portageville when he was arraigned Tuesday in Magistrate Court on two counts of murder involving the May 7 shooting deaths of his former wife, Mary Louise Curtis, 34, and her mother, Susan Gwaltney, 66, at the home of Mrs. Curtis six miles northwest of Portageville.

The case was continued until next Tuesday to allow Curtis time to obtain legal counsel. Curtis told the court he did not want a New Madrid County attorney appointed to defend him.

Curtis was returned to the New Madrid County jail Monday from Memphis, Tenn., where he had been confined in a hospital since the day after the shootings.

An all-night manhunt ended when Curtis was found about 9:15 a.m. on May 8. He was lying unconscious, apparently due to an overdose of drugs, in his car which was parked in a barn on a farm road three miles west of the former Hollywood Courts tavern north of Marston on Highway 61.

He was first admitted to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital in Hayti in critical condition, and later was transferred to Memphis.

Glenn Brimer was ordered to stand trial in Circuit Court on a felonious stealing charge following a preliminary hearing Tuesday. Bond for Brimer remains at $2,500. He is accused of stealing a 1972 model four-wheel drive pickup truck valued at $2,500, which belonged to W. L. Ramsey Jr.

A 23- year - old Lilbourn man, Lee Jackson, charged with forcible rape Friday of a 20- year - old woman, was placed under $5,000 bond when he waived a preliminary hearing Monday before Judge Hedgepeth.

Jim Gaddis waived a hearing on burglary and larceny charges in connection with a breakin on May 15 at the Canalou Learning Improvement Center, in which two typewriters, a calculator and a travel clock valued at $800 were stolen.

Gaddis was ordered to stand trial in Circuit Court and bond was set at $1,000.

Warrants have been issued for the arrest of three other men suspected in the break-in.

Gregory Stephan Hall was fined $125 on a charge of possession of less than 35 grams of marijuana. He was given a six- month suspended jail sentence and placed on probation for six months.

The case against Tom Grobmeyer, who was arrested with Hall and charged with a similar offense, has been continued. Grobmeyer posted $250 bond.

Junior Criswell was fined $50 on a peace disturbance charge. Raymond Charles Bledsoe paid the same amount on charges of careless and imprudent driving by failure to yield right of way and driving without a license.

Others paying fines on motor vehicle violations included:

Brownie Baker, careless and imprudent driving by following too closely, $25; A. T. Evans, improper registration, $25; Henry Gene Pikey, improper registration, $20; Hugh Pfaff Poultry Co., no copy of Missouri special fuel user's permit on truck, $20; Horace Lee McCormick, expired vehicle license, $20.

Manuel Alan Moit, careless and imprudent driving by failure to exercise care, $30; Ruth Elaine Koons, operating a motor vehicle with out- of - state license, $20; and Dennis LaVerne Grandprey, careless and imprudent driving by following too closely, $20.

Twenty- nine fines levied on speeding charges, resulting mostly from radar checks by the highway patrol, included:

Delotes Ray Burton, $35; John Lawburg, $25; Hershel Wayne Coin, $26; Kathryn Jean Bond, $26; John Richard Knapp, $26; A. L. Jones, $30; Millard Eugene Donaldson, $28; John Geary Murphy, $32.

MAY'S MEMORABLE MOMENTS

May brings the spring season to fulfillment with a richness of roses, the syrupy fragrance of honeysuckle, and the thick foliage and tall grass which flutter and bend in the wind, bask in the sun, and drip with early morning dew.

Perhaps it is merely age telling us, but the grass seems to have grown a little faster this May and needed mowing more often. The leaves on the oaks, elms, hickories, hackberries, gums and wild cherry trees seem a little thicker than usual, and successfully veil the birds which populate our neighborhood. It takes patient sleuthing to trace a robin to its nest, but the reward is a chance to watch the parents day by day nursing their fledglings until the moment when they push the uncertain young into the world to fend as best they can against the cats which roam back yards.

Even on May days when the sky turns black and dumps hours of showers on the land, the cool dawn seems to escape the rain. In the slanting early morning sunlight, when shadows are long but velvety soft, there is a short, treasured segment of quiet, before the rest of the world awakens and starts the wheels turning and the engines growling.

By evening, when the quiet descends again, there are mosquitos which make the out- of - doors their private province and send us scurrying for sanctuary.

But while the precious moments of May are sometimes rare and ephemeral, so too are diamonds, great wines, intimations of immortality. The best of May is well worth savoring, and storing away in a safe place in memory.

TV CHANGES

The three national TV networks, ABC, NBC and CBS, have now announced that they will make a number of changes in their programs beginning this fall season. The changes will include replacements providing viewers with 31 new shows.

NBC will make 12 replacements, CBS will make seven, and ABC will make 12.

In announcing their new programs the networks assert that their new offerings will cut down on violence and present more family shows. For instance ABC will drop its long running "FBI" and its "Suspense Movie".

Without knowing any more than this, we must say that anything, just anything, will be an improvement over most presentations on the tube today.

The long hours of slanted news, the dull documentaries, the soap operas, and the old movie repeats have for the past several years far overwhelmed some of the shows that have been outstanding.

Fortunately, some of the local stations have recently been demonstrating their own excellence in news coverage and investigative reporting. In this area they have created a lively competition that the networks would do well to follow.

The networks seem to operate on the principle that if a certain kind of show is being shown by their competitors they have to counter with the same kind of program, be it mystery, family, documentary or special. The same goes for the news programs and commentaries. The top stories all seem the same no matter what network you are watching.

The result is endless repetition. Not only do the morning, afternoon, and nightly news shows have a boring resemblance on each network, but each network appears to tell the same story over and over again.

We suggest that if TV producers are really going to give us some new shows this fall, that they get out of a rut and make a real effort to improve the quality and variety of their programs.

CHEW ON THIS FOR AWHILE

Research never ceases in the toothpaste industry. We've got fluorine toothpastes, baking soda toothpastes, flavored and striped toothpastes, whitening, brightening, cavity- fighting toothpastes. What could be next?

Would you believe Massularia acuminate? Or Fegara zanthoxyloides?

It seems that certain wooden chewing sticks used widely in Africa for cleaning teeth contain substances that inhibit dental caries. That finding was reported by microbiologist Memory Elvin- Lewis of the Washington University School of Dentistry in St. Louis at the recent 52nd general session of the International Association for Dental Research in Atlanta.

Dr. Elwin- Lewis and her husband, Washington University biology professor Walter H. Lewis, have been studying African chewing sticks since 1970. Although the sticks are fashioned from more than 100 varieties of plants in Africa, they determined that one type — Massularia acuminate, a hardwood member of the coffee family used in southern Nigeria — was particularly effective in inhibiting the growth of bacterial plaque. A similar, though lesser, ability was found in Fegara zanthoxlyoides, commonly known as candlewood.

Companies in England and India are already manufacturing dentifrices containing substances taken from these and other types of wood. Clinical studies of the dentifrices are now being conducted at Washington University.

Mother never told us about Massularia acuminate.

THE RIGHT NAME

This newspaper has been making inquiry among the editor's friends, about a very personal matter. We often have occasion to make reference to these good people around Shelbina as "colored," "negro," or "black." There is a diversity of opinion and we'd like the opinion of those whom we have not asked personally. As it is, there is at least one person for each of the first two names, and several for "black." As mentioned above, we want to use the right name when the need arises.

THE INVESTIGATED SHOULD NOT CHOOSE THE EVIDENCE

Last week at Washington, the nation saw what many consider an attempt at perversion of our court system when the head of our country attempted to say what evidence could be used, or what information made available to those investigating him.

The House Judiciary Committee, investigating the President, is the equivalent of a local grand jury or law officer who is investigating your actions or mine, to learn whether or not we have violated the law.

None of us would be allowed to sift through material related to our actions, and say what should be given to the legally constituted investigators. It would not be fair to either the accused or the accusers, and completely contradictory to our system of justice.

That, however, is exactly what the President proposed he do when he went through the White House tapes, and made copies (transcripts) of what he thought the Judiciary Committee should have.

If a private citizen attempted such a thing, he or she would promptly be charged with obstruction of the law, or contempt of court.

Ask your prosecuting attorney if he thinks he could ever get justice for anyone under a similar method here in Monroe County.

INFLATION STRIKES AGAIN

As inflation forces costs up all along the line, the price of electricity must also rise -- a fact difficult for some people to accept because electric energy is literally a life- and-death necessity. It is easy to condemn an electric company when it must go before a public regulatory agency with a request for higher prices for its service.

Although electric energy is the biggest bargain in the average family's budget, it is still an inviting political target. However, electric power companies are mortal the same as everyone else. They must earn reasonable profits if they are to continue to do the job demanded of them. One of the problems they face today and one of which the public has heard far too little is the rising cost of the fuel that turns the generators to make electricity. A major West Coast utility company reports that, "World-wide shortages of, and competition for, relatively clean fossil fuels are forcing prices up .... It is becoming more and more difficult to get enough clean fuel meeting the stringent air pollution control standards of our conventional steam plants...." This company paid $2.22 per barrel for fuel oil in January, 1970. It cost $3.61 in January of 1971 and $4.29 in January, 1972. $5.25 per barrel for January 1973. January 1974 it was even more.

This company's total fuel bill amounts to over half a million dollars per day and represents about 22 percent of the costs covered by the rates coustomers pay for their electrical energy. When rates of a publicly- regulated, investor-owned utility go up, there is always a good reason.

DEMOCRATIC APATHY

Democratic apathy, or in plain Americanese, laziness or neglect, could help defeat Democratic candidates for office this year in Missouri and in Bill Hungates Ninth Congressional District if the pattern of registration in Monroe County holds in other heavily Democratic strongholds.

You can't vote if you are not registered.

Up until last Wednesday, an estimated 1,800 people, mostly Democrats, had not registered in Monroe County.

If the usual Democratic and Republican figures apply this fall, figures that usually show around 75% to 80% of Monroe Countians voting Democratic, failure of those 1,800 to register could mean a loss of around 1,400 Democratic votes.

That could easily be the margin of victory - or loss.

It is urgent that all eligible voters register.

It is even more urgent for Monroe County Democrats to do so, if they want their party to win this fall.

STATES MUST ACT

The private sector -- the area in which private citizens are allowed to conduct their affairs with a minimum of government interference -- is shrinking. Many of the powers of the states have been submerged in federal social programs. The fight to save some semblance of the principle of local initiative is real and grim. The only way this fight can be won is to do a job so well at the state or local level that no leverage remains for federal action.

Currently, intensified efforts are underway to standardize and improve state workmen's compensation systems. Various authorities, together with segments of the insurance industry, are working for national minimum guidelines for workmen's compensation coverages and benefits that will assist the individual states in improving their laws. As one insurance authority said sometime ago, "We believe that the involvement of the Federal Government can be positive to the extent that it stimulates the states to bring about needed improvements in workmen's compensation laws. At the same time, the heavy hand of a federal bureaucracy could easily stymie the effectiveness with which many of the state systems are operating. The ideal would be to apply just enough federal influence to bring about state action, without getting the Federal Government excessively involved in systems that require a delicate balancing of equities, incentives and administrative controls."

Workmen's compensation is an area in which many states have in actual operation some of the best social insurance systems ever devised. They provide strong incentives for safety, incentives for seeing that the injured get quality medical care, incentives for rehabilitation and for reemployment of the handicapped. No other social insurance program is so compatible with the competitive private enterprise system as workmen's compensation. Every state should endeavor to make state compensation laws conform to standards that will assure the preservation of local control of a vital, social service -- reparations for the industrially disabled.

CAPITAL NEEDS CITED BY ALUMINUM OFFICIAL

The most compelling restraint against meeting the growing demand for aluminum, according to John D. Harper, chairman and chief executive officer of Aluminum Company of America, has been its inability, under price control's to attain an adequate return on its capital- intensive investment in plants and equipment.

"Decontrol," he pointed out, "is vital to the elimination of shortages now prevalent in aluminum and other basic industries.

"Only with the ability to generate needed profits and to attract outside capital can any industry satisfy the need for its products," he remarked.

Scraps can, he noted, collected at reclamation centers, including several sponsored by Alcoa, are reprocessed into new container sheet at less than five per cent of the energy required when aluminum is first produced. The Aluminum Association reports that the expected recovery by prime producers of aluminum can scrap this year wil' amount to 56,000 pounds, or more than 1.2 billion cans. This represents a recovery of 15.6 per cent.

BET HE'S STILL LOST

Two hunting companions went out into a thick woods looking for the big buck they had been told was living there. After many hours of hunting they decided that they had better go their separate ways.

"Now if you find that buck or get lost, shoot three times into the air. This way we will be able to find each other," said the more experienced of the pair to his friend.

The hero of our story nodded in agreement and proceeded to go his own way through the woods. Aftermany hours of fruitless tracking, he decided he had better use the agreed-upon signal to bring his friend to his side.

He shot three times and waited, but nothing happened. After waiting what he thought was long enough for a response, he shot three more times. Still no response.

"If he doesn't come pretty soon," our lost hunter pondered, "I'm going to run out of arrows."

END WAGE-PRICE CONTROLS NOW

There are literally dozens of reasons why the government should end wage and price controls immediately but it's necessary to mention only a few to prove the case conclusively.

Controls have failed to contain inflation and have actually helped to fuel its fires.

Controls have caused shortages and disruptions of industrial production. They have hindered foreign trade. They have lowered corporate spending for new manufacturing facilities and have made business operations more costly.

Concrete evidence in the case against controls piled up in a recent survey by the National Association of Manufacturers, in which 23 per cent of 2,300 companies queried responded to a detailed questionnaire. Some 85 per cent of all firms responding predicted a serious worsening of shortages if controls continue. About two out of three respondents reported that removal of controls would encourage them to increase their productive capacity.

What better reasons does the federal government need? Congress should immediately dissolve the entire wage- price control program.

DANGER IN PORTUGAL

Preliminary news reports on the recent political and military coup in Portugal are profoundly disturbing, not only for that country but for the entire free world. The new government has openly announced that it would permit communists to join a coalition government, and the Communist Party is reportedly emerging as the best organized and potentially most powerful political force in a country which before the coup had been firmly anti- communist.

The issue which brought down the government was the continuing terrorist war in the Portuguese provinces in Africa, where a relentless and savage campaign had been waged by so- called "liberation" organizations. There has never been the slightest indication reported by any reliable observer on the scene that these terroristic "liberators" had any significant following among the people in these Portuguese territories. The conflict became an excuse to pave the way for a communist seizure of power in Portugal.

Far from welcoming the new Portuguese government, as many in the media are doing, we should recognize the real possibility that it will bring untold disasters not only upon its own people but upon Africa, both black and white. Everything possible should be done to discourage any quick evacuation of the African territories, leaving millions of inhabitants defenseless before the terrorists. We should remember the horrible massacres which occurred when the Belgians too quickly evacuated the Congo in 1960.

Those well- meaning Portuguese who are thinking of cooperating with the communists should remember the fate of others who have tried that, from Eastern Europe after World War II to Chile under Allende. HLH

THE GREAT JEWEL HEIST

WASHINGTON-- "Dick, where is my matched set of emerald and diamond necklace and earrings? The last time I saw them they were here in the safe."

"Uh, uh, uh, I think they are over in the chief of protocol's office, Pat."

"What is my jewelry doing over there?"

"Well, I don't know how to tell you this, but they're not your jewels."

"You didn't sell them to pay our back taxes did you?"

"No, Pat. You see those jewels were given to us by the Saudi Arabian royal family."

"But you told me that you gave me the necklace and earrings for my birthday."

"I did not. I distinctly remember saying that I could give them to you for your birthday-- but it would be wrong."

"That isn't what you said at all, Dick, and you know it. You said that someone had offered to sell you the set for $52,000, and you could raise the money without any trouble at all. The question was not whether you should pay it, but would the jeweler keep demanding more money later on. You said if it cost you more than $52,000, it would be wrong."

"I don't care what I said, Pat. I still knew the jewels were given to us by the Saudi Arabians."

"Why didn't you tell me that in the first place?"

"National security. I couldn't let anyone know the Saudis had given us jewels. If I did, the Swedish would start giving us jewels and there would be no end to it."

"You know, Dick, that's the only jewelry you ever gave me."

"Now, Pat, stop crying. I remember the days when you were happy to wear a cloth coat."

"It isn't the jewels, Dick-- it's the fact that you misspoke. How can I believe in your credibility if you won't even tell me the truth about my birthday present?"

"It wasn't my fault, Pat. If Maxine Cheshire hadn't stuck her (expletive deleted) nose into the White House, no one would have known about the Saudi gift. Don't you see what they're doing? They're out to destroy me."

"I understand that, Dick. At the same time it was wrong not to tell me who really gave us the jewels. It's almost immoral."

"Immoral you say? Here comes Father McLaughlin, my Jesuit priest. Let's ask him. Father, do you think I did anything wrong in not telling Pat the jewels I gave her came from Saudi Arabia?"

"Bless you, Mr. President. You did the right thing. It would have been immoral to tell her the truth.

"The Good Book says 'He that deceiveth his wife is innocent of all deception, amen.' "

"You see, Pat, even the church supports me."

"Oh well, it's not important. But what do I tell Tricia? She thinks the diamond and emerald pin is hers."

"Tell her we lost it."

"Why don't we just tell her the truth?"

"I'm sure Father McLaughlin has a good answer to that one, Pat. Father?"

"It says in the Good Book, 'When an Arab king gives a gift of jewels, the price of oil goes up $10 a barrel.' Tell Tricia you lost it."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS:

More Postal Back- Scratching

WASHINGTON-- As part of our continuing investigation of the Postal Service, we have uncovered a secret, back-scratching relationship between postal authorities and the giant Ernst and Ernst accounting firm.

The firm was second highest of eight bidders for the lucrative postal auditing contract in 1971. Yet Assistant Postmaster General James Hargrove, now retired, ignored six lower bidders and overrode the recommendations of the professional staff to give the contract to Ernst and Ernst.

Not long afterwards, Hargrove instructed the accounting firm over the telephone to recruit two top postal executives. The firm billed the postal service $20,000 for recruiting assistant Postmaster General Richard F. Gould and financial officer John R. Bowen.

Now the same two men who were hired by Ernst and Ernst are in a position to repay the favor. For they help oversee the firm's auditing of the mail system.

Indeed, Gould has repeatedly urged the Postal Service to renew the firm's contract without bothering to seek other bids and Bowen has certified the contract each time it has been renewed.

In 1972, for example, Gould wrote a memo, intended for the eyes only of his supervisors, recommending: "From our point of view, we think it is undesirable to enter into solicitation of bids again....

"It is our opinion that Ernst and Ernst has developed considerable understanding of many of our problems. We see no point to repeating the learning process and ask for your approval as we continue to work out an extension of the Ernst and Ernst contract."

Again in 1973, Gould sought another renewal of the Ernst and Ernst contract without competitive bidding. He didn't even want to bother with the formality of acquiring a financial statement from the firm.

Reports one internal memo: "On December 19, 1973, (Assistant Postmaster General Robert) McCutcheon called and advised that Mr. Gould had raised the question of the necessity of obtaining financial statements of Ernst and Ernst, as he had been requested, in connection with the renewal of the contract for accounting services." McCutcheon agreed it wouldn't be necessary.

The Ernst and Ernst contract reached $460,000 in 1973. Perhaps out of gratitude, the company's employes contributed $88,000 to President Nixon's re- election campaign. This fascinating fact was found on the White House list of secret contributors which the President's personal secretary, Rose Mary Woods, kept.

Footnote: An Ernst and Ernst spokesman denied that the Nixon contribution had anything to do with the firm's postal contracts. He confirmed that the firm received $20,000 for recruiting Gould and Bowen but rejected an inference that they showed their gratitude thereafter by seeking to renew the company's contract.

A Postal Service spokesman denied that the recruiting of Gould and Bowen was done under the table. He pointed out that the two employes do not have final authority over the Ernst and Ernst contract. He denied, therefore, that they had a conflict of interest.

ANOTHER ZIEGLERISM: White House falsehoods, like chickens, come home to roost.

On February 7, 1973, we reported bluntly: "The word has gone out from the White House to 'nail' Jack Anderson and the Washington Post. This language was used, according to the sources who heard it, by President Nixon's crewcut chief of staff H. R. Haldeman...."

The President, we added, has been "heard, in reference to the Washington Post, to explode angrily: 'We've got to take care of those people'."

This story brought an anguished response from the President's spokesman, Ron Ziegler, who insisted it was "wrong, wrong, wrong!" The White House transcripts now show who was "wrong, wrong, wrong!"

An exchange, which the White House deleted from the transcripts, has now come to light. This quotes the President as telling Haldeman and John Dean on September 15, 1972: "Main thing is the (Washington— Post is going to have damnable problems out of this one."

As added evidence of the President's vindictiveness, the transcripts show he also instructed Dean: "I want the most comprehensive notes on all those who tried to do us in....We have not used the Bureau (the FBI) and we have not used the Justice Department but things are going to change now."

At another juncture, the President snorted: "Well, one hell of a lot of people don't give one damn about this issue of suppression of the press, et cetera...."

Less than four months later, four challenges suddenly were filed against the Washington Post's TV stations in Jacksonville and Miami, Fla.

And my associate Les Whitten was arrested on the street by eight FBI agents who had been expecting me. His notes were ripped out of his hands while he was covering a story for this column and he was clapped in jail. A grand jury subsequently refused to indict him for any crime and the Justice Department was compelled to drop all charges.

Contract talks to resume

MARSTON — Contract negotiations between United Steel Workers of America Local 7686 and Noranda Aluminum Inc. are scheduled to resume Thursday in Sikeston.

The session will mark the fourth attempt to reach an agreeable contract to end the strike at the aluminum reduction plant, which began on Jan. 31, the day the old contract expired.

Former Hayti mayor may have misappropriated funds

HAYTI — An auditor has told Hayti officials that at least $3,777.39 may have been "misappropriated" from city funds by former Mayor Lee Roy Bain during his last term of office.

The disclosure prompted Mayor Fred Chaffin to announce Tuesday that a "comprehensive audit" of city funds for at least eight previous years will be made "to see if more money has been misused."

Bain resigned April 4 after admitting that he pocketed $2,617.30 in city funds from Sept. 20, 1973 to March 27, 1974.

The former mayor said Tuesday he "hadn't heard anything about" the results of an audit by James Hillin of Cape Girardeau, whom the city hired last month to investigate city business transactions over the past year.

The new investigation will center on eight years during Bain's term from 1956 to 1970 when there was no audit of city funds, Chaffin said.

No charges have been filed against the ex- mayor since he agreed to pay back the $2,617.30.

However, the money has not been paid back, Chaffin said, "and the city attorney has now been directed to inform him (Bain) to pay back the ($3,777.39) immediately."

The expanded audit, which will cost about $2,000, is not likely to be concluded before July 1, Hillin said.

"There has been no indication that anything irregular will be found by going back further, but the city apparently feels it should be sure," he said.

The council claims Bain pocketed the money from 13 "unauthorized" cashiers' checks.

Suspicion was first aroused in early April when City Clerk Mrs. Marcele Russell noticed "several past checks made out to people I never even heard of."

A check signed Feb. 15, 1974 was made out to "Semo Todd," while a subsequent check dated March 13, 1974 was signed "Todd Semo."

Mrs. Russell said she identified both of the names in question as having been written by the former mayor.

The audit revealed five more "unauthorized" checks than were previously known to exist, Chaffin said.

Firemen called to car fire

Firemen said damage to the car, owned by Robert Godis of Canalou, was minor. The fire was caused by a carburetor backfire.

Firemen were called at 1:11 p.m. to a car fire in the parking lot at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 1100 N. Main St.

In southern China, as in Burma and Siam, rice is the central food, and all else--soup, meat, fish, vegetables and condiments--are "garnish."

Ann Landers

Time can be the best gift

Dear Ann Landers: I heard you speak in New Orleans recently. One sentence you uttered will stay with me forever. It really hit home because, like so many other parents, we have spoiled our children. You said, "The only thing kids get out of frequent gifts, usually handed to them on a silver platter, is the habit of receiving."

I know you are right, but how can parents say no to their children when money isn't a problem? Our kids see us buying luxury items for ourselves and naturally they feel that they have a right to them, too.

I grew up in a family that didn't have a pot to cook in or a window to throw it out of. It was easy for our parents to say no because we knew darned well we couldn't afford anything fancy. Nobody asked very often. What's the answer for the members of the affluent society?-- Loaded And Vulnerable

Dear L. & V.: What's the question? Do kids really want everything they ask for? The answer is, "No, they don't."

An attorney I very much admired once said the greatest gift he ever received in his life was a note his dad gave him one Christmas. It read, "Son, this year I will give you 365 hours. One hour every day after dinner. We'll talk about whatever you want to talk about. We'll go wherever you want to go, play whatever you want to play. It will be your hour." That dad kept his promise and renewed it every year.

Time spent with a child is much more meaningful than any gift that can be bought in a store. It never wears out- and it costs nothing.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been running most of my 58 years- running away from painful childhood memories, running from one loveless marriage to another, running from hospital to hospital, operation to operation, lover to lover, job to job, city to city, pill to bottle, and even from psychiatrist to psychiatrist.

The last psychiatrist gave me the strength and courage to face the truth about myself. I was a lesbian.

I know you have been in combat with certain "authorities" who insist that homosexuality is not an illness. Well, for me it was.

Now that I have resolved my inner conflicts, I am functioning happily as a contented woman. Keep plugging away for better mental health, Ann. So many frightened, stumbling people in this world need to know there is help for them. And when you tell them, they believe it. - Running No More

Dear R.N.M.: Your letter makes a point I've tried to get across repeatedly. People who feel they aren't making progress after eight or nine months of therapy should get another therapist. Not all psychiatrists click with every patient. A competent psychiatrist often senses this even before the patient and will suggest another doctor. If he doesn't, however, and you really feel as if you're getting nowhere, ask him if he will help you make the change.

Confidential to Burning the Candle at Both Ends: Your letter was a masterpiece, but you don't want advice, honey. You just want more wax.

Is alcoholism ruining your life? Know the danger signals and what to do. Read the booklet, "Alcoholism-- Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self- addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P. O. Box 3346, Chicago, Illinois 60654.

The Code of Hammurabi was one of the greatest of ancient legal systems. The laws were generally humanitarian; however, one savage feature of the code was the retributive nature of the punishment which literally followed "an eye for an eye," The World Almanac recalls. Imprisonment was considered too expensive, corrupting to the prisoner and a hardship to dependents.

Plaque presented to Lankford

Les Lankford, left, presiding judge of the Scott County Court, accepts an appreciation plaque from O. E. Rigdon of Chaffee, secretary of Modern Woodmen of America Camp No. 5073. Lankford was presented the plaque Tuesday night during a dinner in his honor for service he has contributed to the Chaffee community.

Judge honored at dinner

CHAFFEE — Les D. Lankford, presiding judge of the Scott County Court, was honored at an appreciation dinner Tuesday night at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Lankford was also presented a plaque for his service in the Chaffee community by Modern Woodmen of America Camp No. 5073, which hosted the occasion.

In accepting the plaque, Lankford said that during his 36 years in politics, he had always tried to give something back to the people who helped elect him.

"Scott County is one of the best counties in the state," Lankford said. He also added that it ranked 24th in population and assessment.

Lankford, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for second district associate judge of the Scott County Court, has held the position of presiding judge of the County Court for four terms — a total of 16 years — and served as Scott County's representative in the 72nd General Assembly of the Missouri Legislature.

In explaining his decision for running for associate judge instead of seeking re- election as presiding judge, Lankford said he does not drive well at night any more and there are several night meetings he thinks the presiding judge should attend.

Lankford is a member of the Chaffee United Methodist Church, and as a past exalted ruler of the Chaffee Elks Club and past president of the Chaffee Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce.

He also served two terms as mayor and six terms as an alderman.

While serving as presiding judge, Lankford's name was added to the Leaders Honor Roll of the University of Missouri Extension Division, in recognition of his work iin helping develop and carry out local extension programs. He was also named to the State Aid Road Committee in 1961.

Council to seek contract release

EAST PRAIRIE — Following a lengthy discussion about the purchase of an electronic bookkeeping- billing machine from the Burroughs Corp., the City Council Tuesday night agreed to contact the company to request they be released from the contract with reimbursement of funds already paid.

The council approved the purchase of the $19,714 machine in January, and the first year's payments of $7,885 had been made, plus the purchase of about $1,000 in supplies. The balance on the machine was to be paid over a three- year period.

Mayor Lawanda Douglas stated several times that she regretted seconding the motion to purchase the machine and quoted Ken Stallings of Sikeston as saying at the last council meeting that he did not think it was economically feasible for the city to purchase the machine.

She also said Stallings estimated his company, James V. Stallings and Co., could do the city's water billing at a cost of 20 to 25 cents per card.

According to Mrs. Douglas, it would also be necessary to hire an additional employe at city hall to operate the machine.

City Manager Bob Kakac, who recommended the purchase of the machine, disputed Mrs. Douglas's opinion on hiring an additional employe, and stated, "I guarantee we won't have to hire an additional employe if the machine is kept."

Kakac presented figures which showed that the city would save money in the future by purchasing the machine and using it for water, trash and tax billing and payroll accounting, in addition to other office procedures.

He said there are about 1,100 water accounts in the city at present and the machine would eliminate a lot of work in compiling water bills when the meters are installed. The city is also negotiating for the purchase of Associated Natural Gas Co. facilities locally, and the machine would also be used in compiling gas bills for city residents.

Kakac also stated that this was one way of updating the city and stood by his original recommendation that the city should purchase the machine.

A petition was presented to the council by Mrs. Cathy Allred objecting to persons moving into a condemned house on Presson Street adjoining her property. Mrs. Allred said the house had been empty for two years, was a health hazard and not fit for habitation.

The petition also complained about a second condemned house in the area. Mrs. Allred said the man who reportedly owned the property was not paying taxes, according to county records, and that he refused to clean up a lumber pile on her property line.

Kakac said he had met with the man and informed him that he could not move into the house unless it was repaired and passed inspection. He said he would check into the matter further this week.

The council authorized Kakac to notify property owners who still have outdoor toilets that the toilets must be destroyed and residents must hook onto city sewers.

Kakac was also authorized to continue negotiating for the city's interest in the purchase of Associated Natural Gas Co. facilities in East Prairie.

A report was given on the damage to the city swimming pool from last week's earthquake. Kakac said the pool had been inspected and an estimate was being made on the damage. He was instructed to look into the cost of installing a fiber glass lining in the pool

The next regular council meeting on June was set as a public hearing date on rezoning requests. Mayor Douglas read the planning and zoning board's recommendations that a request by James O'Dell to rezone his property in block 9 of Nelson Second Addition from commercial to residential be granted.

The Planning and Zoning Board did not recommend approval of a request from Mark Archie that his property in block 2 of Doyle Second Addition be rezoned from residential to commercial.

Councilman Marion "Bud" Morgan was appointed to the Planning and Zoning Board, replacing Councilman Jones Hedge, who has submitted his resignation.

Councilman Wayne Presson voiced his objection to "people who are allowed to work out their fines leaning on their shovel handles."

He said he believed that if they were allowed to work out their fines rather than spending time in jail, they should be assigned a specific amount of work to do, and this should be enforced.

Kakac was instructed to see that the matter was enforced, if necessary, under police supervision.

"Reverence for life" is the term Dr. Albert Schweitzer used for a universal concept of ethics which he felt would demand the highest development of an individual's resources. In 1919, Schweitzer first professed that mankind must learn to become reverent toward life in all its living forms and exclaimed that "reverence for life comprises the whole ethic of love in its deepest and highest sense," The World Almanac notes.

Pemiscot County man arraigned for rape

CARUTHERSVILLE— Harlen Goss, a 30- year- old local man, was arraigned in Pemiscot County Magistrate Court Monday morning before Judge Sidney Chaffin on a charge of rape.

According to Pemiscot County sheriff's officers, Goss was arrested by Missouri State Highway Patrol troopers early Saturday morning at Chute 16 near Caruthersville.

The sheriff's office said they received a report from a woman in the Chute 16 area who reported she heard a girl screaming. Troopers were notified shortly after 5 a.m., and upon investigation, they arrested Goss. At the same time, a 15- year- old girl, believed to be a niece of Goss, was taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital for treatment.

In other crime news, Hayti police arrested a 17- year- old burglary suspect last week after a chase ended on the steps of the city hall in Hayti.

The youth was identified as James Ray Powell, 17, of Dogwood. He was arrested on six counts of felonious stealing, stemming from six burglaries in the Hayti area in the past two weeks. During this time, assorted items were taken from a service station, lumber yard, dairy bar and television shop.

Police said all but $12 of the money and items stolen were recovered when Powell was apprehended.

Hayti officers Ed Hendrix, Jim Onley and Bill Hopkins spotted the youth in a car along with other juveniles but the youth jumped out and police gave chase on foot. Shortly after police thought the boy had eluded them, they spotted him catching his breath while hiding on the steps of the city hall.

Service commission dismisses application

BLYTHEVILLE — Application of Arkansas-Missouri Power Company to lease the electric system of the City of Gideon has been dismissed by the Missouri Public Service Commission at the request of the utility.

Arkansas- Missouri Power had applied for authority to lease the electric system contingent upon the sale of the system to the city of Gideon-Anderson Lumber Company.

The transaction between the lumber company and the city, which was approved by the PSC in June, 1972, has not been carried out.

The commission noted in its order dismissing the application of Arkansas-Missouri Power that the city and the lumber company now intend to transfer the system under terms not approved by the PSC.

The city and the lumber company were ordered to notify the commission by June 28 whether they will carry out terms of the 1972 order approving the sale, and, if so, when they expect to comply with it.

'Spikes Gang' starts Friday

"Spikes Gang", starring Lee Marvin, begins Friday at Malco Twin Cinema I in Midtowner Village Shopping Center. The film is rated PG (parental guidance advised; some material may not be suitable for pre-teenagers.)

A PG- rated movie, "The Pyx", starring Karen Black, is now showing at the Malco Twin Cinema I.

At Malco Twin Cinema II is "The Conversation", rated PG and starring Gene Hackman. The movie ends Thursday night and "Sugarland Express", starring Goldie Hawn, will begin Friday. "Sugarland Express" is rated PG.

The musical adaptation of "Huckleberry Finn", rated G for general audiences, starts Friday at Malone Theatre, 107 W. Malone Ave.

Now playing at Malone is "The Arena" and "Witch Without a Broom", rated R (restricted; persons under the age of 17 must be accompanied by a parent or adult guardian).

"The Bootleggers", rated PG, is being held over for a third week at the Mall Theatre in Kingsway Plaza Mall.

Delta Drive Inn Theatre on Highway 61 North has scheduled a double feature, "The Models" and "The Student Teachers", for Friday night. Both movies are rated R. The same features will be shown again Saturday night, followed by "Far Horizon", an R-rated film.

On Sunday night, two R-rated films, "The Swinging Wives" and "Gods Little Acre" will be shown.

Musical adaptation of 'Huck Finn' opens Friday

Filming of "Tom Sawyer" on Missouri locations during the summer of 1972 was only about half completed when the producer, Arthur P. Jacobs, became convinced of the correctness of his hunch that a musical adaptation of Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn" would make an excellent film, too.

Indeed, his enthusiasm for Twain's writings as film fare was such that he was determined to produce it regardless of how "Tom Sawyer" did at the boxoffice.

United Artists, an entertainment service of Transamerica Corporation, and The Reader's Digest provided the financing, with the former handling distribution. And, now that film can be seen starting Friday at the Malone Theatre, 107 W. Malone Ave.

The title role is played by Jeff East, and leading roles are played by Paul Winfield, Harvey Korman and Jean Fay. The Arthur P. Jacobs Production of a Reader's Digest Presentation also stars David Wayne, Arthur O'Connell, Gary Merrill, Natalie Trundy and Lucille Benson. J. Lee Thompson directed the film.

The Sherman brothers, Richard M. and Robert B., who had written both screenplay and songs for "Tom Sawyer," perform a similar function on "Huckleberry Finn." They read the book several times separately, and committed to paper their individual approaches.

When they finally met and compare notes they discovered they were in virtual agreement as to how it could best me made palatable to contemporary audiences of all ages, yet retain the essence and spirit of Twain's middle-America of some 150 years ago.

While "Tom Sawyer" was set entirely in Hannibal and environs, "Huckleberry Finn" details a trip down the Mississippi River with sequences set in six different towns, plus assorted locations in between. Since it was not feasible economically to move a large cast and crew plus tons of equipment that often, production designer Philip Jefferies and locations manager William Venegas had to come up with a single principal location site capable of doubling for the others.

Northwestern chalks up record sales

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Agents of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. chalked up record first quarter sales of $940.7 million, president Francis E. Ferguson told the company's board of trustees at its quarterly meeting.

Sales were 11.3 percent above the previous record first quarter of $845.5 million last year, according to Ferguson. For the quarter, the average size policy increased 6.3 percent from $24,619 in 1973 to $26,166 in 1974.

Nearly two thirds of the total insurance sold in the first quarter involved new plans that did not exist in NML's product line before 1968, Ferguson said.

New sales helped push NML insurance in force to $26.3 billion, a 10.8 percent increase since March, 1973.

The net rate of investment earnings, before income taxes, for the 12 months ended March 31 was 6.24 percent, up from 5.96 percent a year ago.

Assets rose 3.9 percent to $7.17 billion at March 31, maintaining NML's position as the seventh largest of the nation's 1,800 life insurance companies.

For the year to date, total benefits left at interest with the company increased 24.9 percent to $21.4 million from $17.1 million. These benefits included maturities, death benefits and dividends. Ferguson said this increase in funds left with the company reflected new settlement options that were introduced in April, 1973, and provided more competitive interest rates.

New sales, earnings record set

HAZELWOOD — Wetterau Inc. set new records in sales and earnings for the fiscal year which ended March 30, reported Ted C. Wetterau, president and chairman of the board.

For the year Wetterau Inc. had net sales of $618,446,000, compared to $526,835,000 a year earlier, which was an increase of 17.39 per cent.

Net earnings for the fiscal year were $7,198,000, versus $6,287,000 a year ago, for a gain of 14.49 per cent. Primary earnings per common share were $1.40, up 17 cents or 14.35 per cent over the $1.23 per share earned a year earlier, after adjustment for a four per cent stock dividend and the acquisition of J. Zinsmeister Co. and Bi- Go Markets, Inc., as a pooling of interests.

For the fourth quarter, net sales were $163,425,000 compared to $134,588,000 for the year earlier period. This was an increase of 21.43 per cent. Net earnings for the quarter were $1,728,000, versus $1,470,000 for the comparable period a year ago. This represents a 17.60 per cent gain. Per share earnings for the quarter were 34 cents compared with 29 cents a year earlier, which was a rise of 17.45 per cent over the same period of fiscal 1973.

Wetterau Inc. has completed 44 years of consecutive sales increases and 37 straight years of earnings increases, giving the company first and second place respectively among all publicly held firms in those categories.

Because of the adoption of a new corporate identification program, Wetterau, Inc. will submit to its stockholders on Aug. 13 a proposal that the company name be changed to Wetterau Incorporated.

P'ville approved for insurance

PORTAGEVILLE— The Department of Housing and Urban Development Friday approved the city of Portageville for federally subsidized flood insurance, according to information received from 10th District Rep. Bill D. Burlison in Washington.

The city became eligible by adopting land use and control measures designed to guide future developments away from flood hazard areas and set future construction and improvement standards.

Burlison said all structures used for residential, business, religious or agricultural purposes and structures occupied by nonprofit organizations are eligible for flood insurance coverage.

The National Flood Insurers Association has designated MFA Insurance Companies, 1817 W. Broadway, Columbia, Mo. 65201, as the service company.

Agents should contact the company to obtain policy forms, rates, flood insurance manuals and any other necessary information.

Book Review

EDWARD II
by Christopher Marlowe
(Bard 18648/$.75
176pp.)

Of the works of Essayest and dramatist Christopher Marlowe, Edward II, which was never performed in his lifetime, marks the height of his ability as a playwright. Records show that it is unlikely that he and his contemporary, William Shakespeare, ever met; nevertheless, many scholars have noted Shakespeare's indebtedness to Marlowe, and particularly to EDWARD II.

World News in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some House Judiciary Committee members say President Nixon's discussion of payments to keep Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt Jr. quiet is the most damaging evidence they have heard yet in their impeachment hearings. A tape of the March 21, 1973, talk between Nixon and former White House counsel John W. Dean III convinced some Democrats on the committee that Nixon ordered Dean to pay Hunt $120,000 in hush money. "It was a command. It was said very positively," said Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Calif.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has reaffirmed the authority of Watergate special prosecutor Leon Jaworski to pursue White House tapes through the courts. Jaworski complained to the committee that the President "is challenging my right to bring action against him to obtain evidence." However, the committee said the prosecutor "is acting within the scope of the authority conferred upon him..."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has rejected and probably killed standby emergency energy legislation that would have given President Nixon rationing powers in the event of a renewed crisis. The 207 to 191 vote against the standby measure centered on a provision designed to roll back domestic crude oil prices to pre-embargo levels.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense spending supporters say the House may vote to reduce U.S. military aid for South Vietnam to $900 million and cut 100,000 men from U.S. forces overseas. Supporters, reportedly including White House lobbyists, were pessimistic on both the Vietnam aid and the U.S. overseas troop cut votes. They said they believed they could narrowly defeat an amendment by a coalition of military spending critics and economy bloc congressmen to cut the bill $733 million across the board.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Thousands of British troops in combat gear swarmed through Belfast today, ripping down barricades built by Protestant militants to back up their general strike. It was a quick reply to claims by strike leaders that they controlled Northern Ireland. The move came on the eighth day of a crippling strike called by the Protestants to protest British efforts at giving Ulster's Roman Catholic minority a voice in government.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Israeli warplanes bombed two Lebanese villages Tuesday on Mt. Hermon's western slope. The Tel Aviv command said the raids were on "guerrilla concentrations," but other reports said there had been no guerrilla activity in the area. The Lebanese Defense Ministry said the raids brought the Arab death toll from four Israeli attacks in the past week to about 60. Tuesday's bombings came less than 24 hours after Premier Golda Meir announced a systematic Israeli war against the guerrillas.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's underground nuclear explosion has set off a chain of international repercussions that Prime Minister Indira Gandhi might find hard to control. The blast boosted her prestige at home, but it posed an immediate danger to detente with Pakistan and angered key Western aid donors. "There is no question that in the long run governments will probably hold back some aid because they feel that India has diverted money and resources from more important economic priorities," one diplomat observed.

Committee delays action on law council proposal

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The state Fiscal Affairs Committee has refused to "kill" the Missouri Law Enforcement Assistance Council by delaying any decision on a proposal that would enable the council to increase its staff.

Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth, president of the council which administers some $13 million in federal anticrime funds in Missouri, told the committee Tuesday that if it did not approve the plan, federally-funded anticrime programs throughout the state would be cut off.

After a short discussion. The committee deferred action on the problem, which revolves around what council officials have said is an inadequate $26,500 appropriation for the operation of the council during the coming fiscal year, indicating there is no need to make a quck decision on the matter since it involves a situation which will not go into effect until July 1. Danforth asked for an answer by the first week in June.

The state legislature cut the counil's appropriation for the coming year by $4,000 over this year's funding, Danforth said, apparently in an attempt to force more money into the staffs of the 19 regional law enforcement units in the state. Council director Robert Gruensfelder said, however, that the cut in the money will force a staff reduction from 33 to 20 employes at a time when the federal government has called for an increase in staff to 43.

The proposed plan would permit the council to require each of the 19 regional units to provide matching funds to the state based on a formula involving the federal funds each region receives.

"We have the legal power to do this," Danforth said of implementing the plan, "but I don't believe we should undo what the General Assembly has done."

He said the council will implement the plan only if the committee gives its approval, either directly or tacitly.

"The council can't be at loggerheads with the General Assembly," Danforth contended. "The General Assembly should have the opportunity to kill the program if it wants to."

Unlss the council staff is increased to 43 persons, federal officials have said they will cut off all anticicrime funds to the state.

In other budget-related action Tuesday, the committe:

—Authorized the Highway Patrol to borrow $1.4 million from the highway fund to pay for patrol pay raises beginning Aug.13, which sere authorized by the legislature during the last session. The pay hikes will cost an estimated $138,000 a month, Supt. Sam S. Smith said, indicating the patrol will seek an emergency appropriation to recover the funds next January.

—Approved the use of federal funds to raise the monthly secretary salaries in the state Department of Education by $50 across the board. Officials said the boost was needed because the current low pay has made it difficult to hire or retain employes.

—Authorized use of federal funds to hire a state director of instructional television, who would coordinate and work with public schools on the uses of educational television.

—Released the final $83,700 in the public defender contingency fund, but appointed a fivemembers subcommittee to review operations of the statewide program so that procedures can be improved for budgetary predictions in the future.

—Delayed action on a request from the state Educational Department to use federal funds to increase salaries of some professional employes to comply with the equal pay provisions of the federal government.

—Denied a request from Northwest Missouri State University to use about $5,100 for general repair work at the school after the money was left unspent due to an ccounting error. Committee Chairman Rep. Clarence Heflin, D-Independence, said it "looks to me like they found some money and want to spend it."

—Refused to endorse implementation of a $2.2 million federal grant for rehabilitation pilot projects in the state Corrections Department. Sen. Richard Webster, R-Charthage, said that grant had been obtained without any legislative knowledge.

5 shots fired as thieves flee

Otis Morris, 318 Ruth St., surprised two burglars in his home about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and fired five shots at them before they fled.

Morris told police he arrived home to find two young men in his living room stealing his stereo and speakers. He said both ran toward the back door.

Morris said he fired five shots at them with a .32-caliber pistol as they fled. They ran out the back door and into the alley.

Police said the shots apparently did not hit either man.

Cross Truck Stop and causing a power outage in the Anniston and East Prairie areas lasting from 30 minutes to two hours.

Jones said utility company crewmen worked on the lines until 4 a.m. today, although power was restored before then.

About 7 p.m. Tuesday night, an unconfirmed tornado funnel was sighted in East Prairie. Another tornado was reported about three to four miles east of Bernie. Police today said they had received no reports of damage in that area, although some residents reported some tree limbs down.

Farm income drops fourth straight month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Incomes received by the nation's farmers dropped 12 per cent in April, the fourth straight month of decline, the Commerce Department reported Thursday.

The department said the drop in income was due to a decline in prices received by farmers for livestock and crops, combined with rising production costs.

Farm income in April was at an annual rate of $25.2 billion, down from $28.6 billion in March and $29.1 billion in February.

But over-all personal income of Americans increased in April for the third consecutive month, climbing $7 billion to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $1,108.4 billion, or a gain of six-tenths of one per cent.

The personal income figures are important because they show how much money Americans will have to spend on goods and services in months ahead. The figures include income from all sources, including wages, dividends and interest.

ARTS EXPOSURE WEEK BY HARLEM DANCERS

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dance Theater of Harlem set up "Arts Exposure Week" previous to its two-week season at the ANTA Theater on Broadway April 16 through 28.

School children and senior citizens, and nobody else, were able to see full matinee and evening performances. Arthur Mitchell, director of the company, gave a short introduction to each ballet.

Indy suit

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — There will be a 500- mile auto race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Sunday, a top Speedway official says, despite a $1 million lawsuit to keep it from going off on schedule.

"We will have a race Sunday," Chief Steward Tom Binford promised. "The only person who can stop it is God, and we haven't talked to Him."

Suit was filed Tuesday in Marion County Superior Court in Indianapolis by attorneys Wright Hugus Jr., and Don A. Tabbert on behalf of seven angry car owners.

The suit also seeks a temporary restraining order halting further activity at the track until the case is heard.

Judge Frank Symmes set a hearing for early today.

The action stems from last Saturday's rain- shortened time trials that left 11 cars at the line when the track closed for racing. That deadline, speedway officials say, was set down in the Speedway entry blank signed by each of the 61 entrants who actually brought cars to the track.

The car owners who did not get an attempt to qualify contended the deadline should have been extended to give all of the 50 cars that had been certified an opportunity to make the 33- car field.

The pleas were denied. And Speedway officials turned down further requests for a reopening of qualifications.

Speedway officials hope the court hearings won't delay Thursday's carburetion tests. Binford, who succeeded controversial Harlan Fengler this year, said, "Of course we will do whatever the judge say we should do."

Plaintiffs are Roy Woods Racing, Carl Gehlhausen, Larry McCoy Sr., K&L Racing, Webster Racing, Rasmussen Racing Products Inc. and Grant King Racing.

King said later he had not given permission to use his name in connection with the suit. King, whose No. 1 driver, Tom Sneva, already holds a third- row starting spot, said, "I don't need to go to court to tell the Speedway people what I have already told them in person. They didn't treat these people right."

Snava and driver Jim Hurtubise, who also qualified, and Parnelli Jones, 1963 Indy 500 winner and owner of the cars of starters Mario Andretti, Al Unser and rookie Jan Opperman, were among those who said the drivers were wronged.

A suggestion by Hugus and Tabbert that the Speedway add a 12th row to the race also was turned down.

The Speedway also had offered the plaintiffs a chance to reopen the trials if they obtained signatures from owners or drivers of already qualified cars. But Hugus and Tabbert said they fell far short of the necessary names. Last- place starter Larry Gannon refused to sign.

WFL opener July 10

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)— The enthusiastic World Football League has announced a 20- game scheduled for each of its 12 teams. The slate, made public Tuesday, starts with five games on Wednesday evening, July 10, followed by a nationally televised game July 11. And they all count in the standings.

Portland is at Philadelphia, Hawaii at Florida, Southern California at Birmingham, Houston at Chicago and Detroit at Memphis to start the season. Then Jacksonville hosts New York to begin the television series, carried nationally by TVS Sports Network.

Hawaii deviates from the Wednesday night- Thursday night schedule by playing all home games on Sundays.

The National Football League, whose season extends well into 1975, doesn't kick off until July 26, when the champion Miami Dolphins play the College All- Stars in Chicago. Then it'll be six more weeks of NFL preseason games, which don't count in the standings.

The WFL schedule concludes with a simple, three- game playoff schedule. It works this way: Winners of the league's three divisions, Eastern, Central and Western, plus the second- place team with the best record enter the playoffs. The four teams will play two semifinal games Nov. 20 and 21, with the championship game a week later.

IBEW, Harts win openers

A six run seventh inning rally broke open a 1-1 deadlock against IBEw and the Eagles, sending IBEW to a 7-1 opening season Jr. Babe Ruth victory at VFW stadium Tuesday night. Harts turned back Home Materials 11-5 to also open their campaign with a big win.

IBEW bunched four of its seven hits in the seventh frame to defeat Roger Cloud and give Dewayne Barnett the win.

Tim Chappell blasted a two run double and later scored to spark the seventh inning uprising.

Harts raced to a 10-1 lead through three innings and coasted to their five inning 11-5 victory over Home Materials in the nightcap. The game was called because of the league's time limit.

Timely hitting was the key to the Harts victory. Despite only five safties, doubles off the bats of Bill Hampton and Tim McAfee provided the punch.

Allen Davidson claimed the win with a four hit performance. Don Francis was tagged with the defeat.

League action resumes Friday night.

Farmer stops Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Tall Ed Farmer has pitched 17 innings for the Philadelphia Phillies and already returned the National League club's investment.

The 6-foot-4 right- hander worked 6 1-3 of the total Tuesday night and choked off the St. Louis Cardinals on four hits in a 4-2 Phils triumph.

It boosted his early season record to 2-0, provided the Phils a 1½-game lead in the N.L. East and left Manager Danny Ozark in a euphoric mood.

"He's already paid for the price we gave for him," declared Ozark in respect to $20,000 in waivers the Phils gave the American League's New York Yankees on March 21.

"We had either to give them a player or the money in exchange," he added. "I wasn't even interested in his record that much. I just liked the way he threw."

Relying on a sharp-braking slider, Farmer rode a four- run Phils burst in the first inning to a 4-1 lead through six innings.

Then, noting later that "my legs started to cramp up on me," he walked pinch-hitter Jim Hickman with one out and followed by walking Lou Brock.

Ted Sizemore drew still another walk from reliever Eddie Watt, Reggie Smith lefted a sacrifice fly for the second card run and Ted Simmons walked to fill the bases.

Only after Mac Scarce came on for his 22nd relief appearance and retired Bake McBride were the Phils able to relax.

"You just look out there and say what the heck," said Ozark, shrugging off eight walks his pitchers yielded compared to four Cards hits.

"I'm really tickled about McBride," he added, however, of the key out contributed by the 25- year-old Scarce.

Cards loser John Curtis, 2-5, and five mound successors walked only five accompanying four Phils hits, but two of each brand came in the first.

Dave Cash and Mike Schmidt crowded walks around a Cards error and Greg Luzinski followed with a line drive sacrifice fly.

The hard- pressed Curtis then worked a 2-0 count on the Phils' Bill Robinson and his next pitch, a high curve, was rifled 395 feet for a home run.

Phils accomplishments in the game included a pitchout that enabled catcher Bob Boone to nail the fleet Brock attempting to steal his 29th straight base in the fifth.

"I knew it was a pitchout," noted Brock, who had earlier swipted his 28th and scored. "I just didn't get the right lead," he said. "The name of the game is execution. The throw had to be ankle high to bet me and its was."

GENERAL

SHELTON, Conn. — Louis A. North, a major league baseball player from 1920-24, died at the age of 84.

HOUSTON — Billy Welu, nationally known professional bowler, died at his home, apparently of a heart attack, at the age of 41.

BASEBALL

BOSTON — Veteran Detroit first baseman Norm Cash was suspended for two days and fined $100 by American League President Lee MacPhail for his altercation with umpire Bill Kunkel Monday night in Milwaukee.

TENNIS

HAMBURG, Germany — Brian Gottfried and Eddie Dibbs of the United States each scored victories in the Hamburg International Tennis tournament. Dibbs posted a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Barry Phillips - Moore of Australia, and Gottfried swept Steve Krulevitz 6-3, 6-4.

$175,000 purse

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)— Dave Hills here. And Lee Trevino. For this particular golf tournament, no one else really matters.

The stormy, outspoken Hill and the flamboyant Trevino are the only two entries necessary to assure the success of $175,000 Danny Thomas- Memphis Classic.

It's a unique situation on the pro golf tour. And it's a happy thing for Memphis. This event suddenly found itself sandwiched in between two ''designated tournaments,'' tournaments in which the game's leading players must compete. They aren't required to play here. And most of them aren't.

They've got Hill and Trevino. Between them, they've swept the last five Memphis titles and have won six of the last seven. The tournament has prospered and improved each of those years.

Last season, when Hill scored his fourth Memphis victory and Trevino was only one shot behind, the event set its all- time record with attendance of 116,900 for the week, comparing favorably with any stop on the tour.

And they're ready to go again.

Trevino, the Memphis winner in 1971- 72, had a strong fifth- place finish in last week's Colonial National at Forth Worth, Tex.

Hill has a particular liking for this town, this tournament and the 7,193-yard, par 72 Colonial Country Club course that will be the site of the 72-hole event beginning Thursday. He won the tournament in 1967, '69 and '70 at the old Colonial course, then won at the new one last year.

"That's my town and these are my people," he said.

They'll be challenged by the always- dangerous Masters champion, Gary Player of South Africa.

Other standouts include 1974 title- winners Hubert Green, Leonard Thompson, Jerry Heard, Lee Elder, Allen Miller— who tied with Trevino for second here a year ago— and little Red Curl, who scored a surprise triumph in Fort Worth.

$154,616 paid

The Scott County Welfare Department disbursed funds totaling $154,616 during April, with the greatest part being paid to the aid to dependent children program.

Breman Montgomery, county director, reported state supplemental payments of $19,842 were paid to 653 persons. These persons were transferred to the new federal program supplemental security income payroll and also remained eligible for a supplemental payment from the state. These received payments under the new SSI program and the state supplemental program.

A total of 306 persons received state supplemental payments only, totaling $15,968. This group previously received old age assistance, permanent and total disability or aid to the blind payments and were not eligible for the new SSI program.

Eight hundred fifty- three families with 1,985 children received $100,341 in the aid to dependent children category, averaging $117.63 per family.

General relief funds of $15,653 went to 218 families, consisting of 241 persons, with a family check averaging $64.95 per person.

Fifteen persons receiving a total of $2,702 in nursing care supplement payments during April.

One person received a $110 blind pension check.

Child welfare services were provided for 215 children, 193 children were given preventive services and $2,117.90 was expanded from state- county funds for 22 children in foster care.

Former Dexter principal accepts new position

KANSAS CITY— John DeArman, former principal of Dexter High School, has accepted a position as assistant superintendent—instruction of the North Kansas City school district, it was announced this week.

DeArman will assume his duties this summer, officials of the school district said.

DeArman is now completing work on his doctor's degree at University of Missouri.

DeArman is a native of Dexter, where he attended public schools and has since served as teacher and administrator.

In Dexter, Supt. Thurston Hill said that he had received the resignation of both DeArman and his wife. Mrs. DeArman has been a teacher in the elementary system.

Supt. Hill said that no successor has been named.

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Racing Assn. reports that 22 time records were set by horses running over Aqueduct, Belmont Park and Saratoga racing strips in 1973. Three other records were tied.

Belmont led the way with 13 records. Six were broken at Aqueduct and three during the four-week meeting at Saratoga.

Norton to head MS drive

ST. LOUIS — Daniel S. Norton of 923 Park Ave., Sikeston, an attorney, has been named chairman of the 1974 MS Hope Chest Campaign in the Sikeston area for the sixth year. The announcement was made by C. Warren Reed, chairman of the St. Louis Area Chapter of National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

The appeal is scheduled between Mother's Day and Father's Day, with volunteers raising funds to help support needed services for multiple sclerosis patients living in the Sikeston area and to aid the national society's research program.

Because multiple sclerosis, a crippling neurological disease of the central nervous system, most often attacks young adults between the ages of 20 and 40, this year's campaign is built around an "Athletes vs MS" theme

The idea, according to Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame's football coach who is the 1974 campaign chairman for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, is to involve athletes at all levels ... professional, collegiate, high school and local ... in a comprehensive program designed ultimately to raise millions of dollars for MS research and patient services.

Since its organization in 1946, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society has allocated more than $22.5 million in research grants and fellowships to study multiple sclerosis.

Currently, Washington University of St. Louis has $465,000 in cumulative grants. In 1973, the St. Louis Area Chapter provided over 33,000 units of service to MS patients in the 72 counties of eastern Missouri and southern Illinois.

It only takes 8.3 minutes for light to travel to the earth from the sun and 1.28 seconds from the moon.

Strong named juvenile officer

KENNETT — Stephen C. Strong of Cape Girardeau has been appointed juvenile officer for the 35th Judicial Circuit, comprising Dunklin and Stoddard counties, according to an announcement by Flake L. McHaney, judge of the 35th Judicial Circuit.

Strong fills the vacancy created by the death of Ralph Lloyd and was selected from a list of 38 applicants. He and his wife, the former Sue Standly of Perkins, plan to move to Kennett in the near future.

Strong, 26, was reared in Cape Girardeau. He graduated cum laude from Southeast Missouri State University in May 1971. He then entered the Institute of Contemporary Corrections and Behavorial Sciences at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Tex., to work on a master's degree in criminology and corrections.

He completed this work in May 1973 and graduated with honors. Upon completion of his thesis, he will have qualified for his master's degree.

Strong has served as a special juvenile probation officer through appointment of the juvenile court of the 32nd Judicial Circuit of Missouri and has participated in the special probation officer's program there. He has served in the Naval Reserve and has had active duty in the Navy.

Judge McHaney stated that he feels fortunate in having been able to interest a person with Strong's qualifications for the position of juvenile officer. Melvin Williams of Bloomfield will serve as the deputy juvenile officer, having been appointed to this position in February. Each of the two counties will now have a juvenile officer permanently located in the county.

It is expected that Strong will assume his duties on June 1.

"A number of factors," Eagleton said, "foremost among them the inadequate level of assistance under the GI bill, have kept many veterans from utilizing all of the assistance to which they were entitled during the eight- year period.

Save 10¢. And let your taste settle the salad dressing question, once and for all.

In salad dressing, it's flavor that counts. Miracle Whip Salad Dressing's lively fresh flavor comes from a special blend of spices and a blending secret that is Kraft's alone. Miracle Whip is perfect just the way it is. Once you compare it with some of the "me-too" dressings we're sure you'll agree, no matter what, there's only one Miracle Whip. And that's why Miracle Whip makes a sandwich, a salad, seafood or cold cuts taste so fresh and lively. And why Miracle Whip is America's favorite salad dressing.

Can you keep up with your family's beef appetite? Fortunately, the table demand for this fine meat can be satisfied when shopping and cooking skills are sharpened.

Beef dollars can be stretched in a dozen or more different ways. Each one will help you build appetizing, nutritious, satisfying - and economical - meals with beef.

PLAN BEFORE YOU SHOP

Good meals at the table begin with a pencil, paper and the food ads. For planning is the firm foundation upon which good meals are built. It is important to all shoppers who want to get the most for their food dollar as well as to those limited by a tight budget.

KNOW YOUR BEEF CUTS

Knowledge of the wide variety of beef cuts is important to identifying good buys. Get to know the many different cuts available and consider all of them, even those less familiar ones. A steer is not all sirloin steaks and rib roasts, and the buyer intent on stretching the dollar looks to beef cuts from the chuck, round, shank and short plate.

THINK "COST PER SERVING"

The smart shopper considers cost per serving rather than cost per pound. Some boneless cuts priced a bit more are better buys because they have little waste. Keep in mind it's cost per edible portion that really counts.

4 servings per pound for ... boneless cuts such as beef for stew, ground beef and cubed steak

3 servings per pound for ... tip and boneless rump roasts; round, top loin and rib eye steaks

2 to 3 servings per pound for ... sirloin steak and boneless roasts from the chuck

2 servings per pound for ... arm and blade pot-roasts; most steaks with a bone

1 to 2 servings per pound for ... short ribs; shank cross- cuts

To determine the approximate cost per serving, simply divide the price per pound by the number of servings per pound that cut will provide.

CONSIDER ALL COSTS

Your beef selection is not the only key to an economical dinner. Avoid spending the money saved by a wise beef choice on costly recipe ingredients. Out -of - season produce, gourmet spice packets and sauces, foods in limited supply - such items can blast the budget of the careful beef buyer.

MAKE YOUR FREEZER WORK FOR YOU

A freezer allows shopping flexibility which permits you to take advantage of advertised beef specials. Also, when an especially attractive beef cut of appropriate size catches your eye, you can capture it to freeze for the future.

HANDLE WITH CARE

To protect those valuable beef investments — "Handle with Care!" The first step is to bring beef purchases home promptly and place them in the meat compartment or coldest part of the refrigerator. Fresh beef prepackaged for self- service may be stored in the refrigerator in the original wrapping for two days.

TURN DOWN THE HEAT

Low heat is the secret to both successful and money- saving meat cookery. Avoid high temperatures and overcooking that shrink a roast and rob it of natural juiciness. Whether roasting, braising, broiling or cooking in liquid, keep the temperature low to moderate.

COOK IT RIGHT

Correct cookery prevents waste that often accompanies a poor choice of method. Every beef cut can be made tender and delicious when matched with the proper cooking method. Less - tender cuts, the backbone of budget meals, can provide delicious dinners.

USE RELIABLE ECONOMICAL RECIPES

Cooking from scratch saves money, so now's the time to prepare some of grandma's penny- saving favorites. But for sure success, follow modern tested recipes unless you are an accomplished cook. Creative failures can be expensive.

CONSIDER TIME SAVINGS

Time as well as money is at a premium nowadays, making quick recipes in demand. Unfortunately convenience foods that provide shortcuts often also add expense. But it is possible to conserve both time and money simultaneously.

CREATE WITH LEFTOVERS

Leftover cooked beef is money in the refrigerator so treat it with respect. It's an investment that pays the biggest dividend when used promptly while that popular beef flavor is at its best. When cooked beef is wrapped securely in plastic or foil and refrigerated, a second meal is well on its way.

BUY FOOD VALUE, NOT FRILLS

Be sure you buy the food value your family needs when you buy food. All of the nutrients necessary for good nutrition can be obtained from the foods offered in today's supermarket. Unfortunately, however, too much of the family food budget is spent on frills - sugared cereals, carbonated beverages, snacks and other foods supplying more calories than nutritients. Increasingly poor food choices in the last decade have reduced the quality of many American diets.

Nutrition - wise shoppers select foods from the Basic Four Groups first: (1) meat, (2) milk, (3) vegetables and fruits, (4) bread and cereal. Two or more servings per day from the meat group are recommended.

CURRIED STEAK STRIPS

- 1 cup rice
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen peas

Cut round steak in strips ⅛ inch thick and 2 to 3 inches long. Combine flour, salt and pepper and dredge beef strips. Brown in cooking fat in large frying-pan. Pour off drippings. Stir curry powder, onion and garlic into meat. Add water and cook slowly 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. SAVORY STEAK SURPRISE

- 1½ pounds round steak, cut ½ inch thick
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 3 tablespoons cooking fat or drippings
- 1 large onion, chopped
- ¾ cup chopped celery
- ⅓ cup water
- 4 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1 teaspoon sage
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 6 prunes, plumped and pitted
- 4 medium carrots, quartered
- ½ cup water

Cut steak in 6 serving-size pieces. Combine flour, 1½ teaspoon salt and pepper and dredge pieces of steak. Brown steak in cooking fat in large frying-pan and place in roasting pan or utility dish (11 x 8 inches). Add onion, celery and ⅓ cup water to pan drippings and cook 5 to 6 minutes, stirring to loosen brown particles in pan. Add bread crumbs, sprinkle with sage and salt and stir lightly to combine. Divide stuffing mixture into 6 portions, place a prune in center of each and form each in a mound, on top of piece of steak. Add carrots and ½ cup water. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 1 hour and 30 minutes or until meat is tender. 6 servings.

TWIN PINWHEEL BEEF LOAVES
(Bake 1—Freeze 1 for Future)

- 3 pounds ground beef
- 1½ cups soft bread crumbs
- 2 eggs
- ½ cup catsup
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, defrosted
- 1½ cups cooked rice
- 1 small onion, chopped
- ¼ teaspoon marjoram
- Catsup, if desired

Lightly but thoroughly combine ground beef, bread crumbs, eggs, ½ cup catsup, mustard, salt and pepper. Combine spinach, rice, onion and marjoram. To make 1 loaf, pat out ½ of beef mixture on waxed paper into a 14 x 10-inch rectangle, approximately ½ inch thick. Spread spinach-rice mixture evenly over meat. Roll up meat mixture from short end of rectangle (jelly roll fashion) to enclose rice filling and form a pinwheel loaf. Press meat over filling at both ends and place loaf, seam side down, on rack in roasting pan. Spread top of loaf very lightly with catsup, if desired. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for 50 to 60 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before slicing and serving. Follow same procedure for forming second pinwheel loaf and place on pan in freezer. Quickly freeze until firm. Wrap securely in foil or freezer paper. Seal, label, return to freezer and store for maximum of 2 to 3 weeks at 0°F. or below. Unwrap frozen loaf and bake as directed, increasing time to 1 hour 15 minutes to 1 hour 30 minutes. Yield: 2 loaves, 6 to 8 servings each.

ZIPPY BLADE STEAK

- 1 beef blade steak, cut ½ to ¾ inch thick
- ¼ cup vinegar
- 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 2 tablespoons catsup
- 1 clove garlic, minced

Combine vinegar, soy sauce, oil, catsup and garlic. Place steak in utility dish or plastic bag and pour marinade over it, turning to coat. Cover dish or tie bag securely and place in pan. Marinate in refrigerator 6 hours or overnight, turning at least once. Remove steak from marinade and place on rack in broiler pan with surface of meat 4 inches from heat. Broil 7 to 10 minutes on each side, depending upon degree doneness desired (rare or medium). 3 to 4 servings.

EASY LASAGNE

- 1½ pounds ground beef
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 clove garlic, chopped
- 1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce
- 1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste
- 1 cup water
- ¼ cup Parmesan cheese
- 1 tablespoon Italian seasoning
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup cream-style small curd cottage cheese
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 package (8 ounces) lasagne noodles, cooked and drained
- 4 ounces mozzarella cheese, grated

Lightly brown ground beef, onion and garlic in frying-pan. Pour off excess drippings. Add tomato sauce, tomato paste, water, Parmesan cheese, Italian seasoning, salt and pepper and cook slowly, covered, 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Mix cottage cheese and nutmeg. Spread 1 cup of meat sauce in bottom of 13 x 9-inch baking dish. Add the following layers: ⅓ of noodles, 1½ cups meat sauce, spiced cottage cheese, ⅓ noodles, 1½ cups meat sauce, grated mozzarella cheese, ⅓ noodles and remaining meat sauce. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes. 8 servings.

Stir beef, onion, tomatoes, chili powder and salt into beans and place in greased 2½-quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 2 hours. Prepare corn muffin mix, using 1 egg and 3 tablespoons milk. Drop cornmeal mixture by spoonfuls (10 to 12) on top of hot beef mixture. Bake, uncovered, 25 to 30 minutes. 6 to 8 servings.

What's the law?

The case of the innocent victim

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Looey entered a money exchange office to cash a check and got himself cashed in instead. A hold- up man followed him into the building and, putting a gun to Looey's head, warned the proprietor of the exchange that unless he opened up the teller's cage, he'd blow off Looey's head.

As fate would have it, however, the proprietor elected to protect his jack rather than his customer. And, as he suddenly dropped to safety behind a bullet- proof window, the frustrated gunman, as warned, let luckless Looey have it.

When the smoke finally departed, so had Looey. He died almost immediately and his widow, blaming the money exchange proprietor, sued the latter for her husband's demise.

"He had a duty to exercise care for the safety of his customers," she complained in court, "and he didn't do it. He elected to protect his money, instead of my Looey."

"That's not exactly so," was the defense. "If I had opened up the cage, the gunman could still have shot up the place. And, in that event, we might have all been lost. Not only the money."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you hold the money exchange proprietor liable for Looey's demise?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that the proprietor of the money exchange had no duty to Looey to accede to the gunman's demand. And even if he had, noted the judge, whether his acquiescence would have spared Looey's life was, at best, speculative. As a matter of fact, concluded the judge, had he opened up the cage, he would have succeeded only in exposing himself to the danger of bodily harm without any assurance that the risk to Looey would have been reduced.

(Based upon a 1974 Illinois Supreme Court Decision)

Coffee Corner by Cherie

Reasons why you don't flush your little boys down the commode —

because they bring you bouquets they've picked from the neighbor's yard -

because they help feed the family by bringing home smelly fish and bloody game for you to clean-because they mow the middle of the yard on the riding mower but generously leave the edges for you to trim with the push mower-

because they eat up all the extra stuff in your icebox, like chocolate whip cream pie or banana pudding-because they always clean up their rooms after a severe beating-

because they never tell a story if they're pretty sure they're going to be found out-because they never cry over "spilt milk", only spilt soda pop-

because they are always quick to go to their rooms and study if they know they're already in trouble with you-because they always feed the dog when you threaten to sell it-but mainly, because they sometimes tell you you're beautiful (and once in a while it's even when they don't want something).

The Prayer

From the upper room

"Behold, he whose soul is not upright in him shall fail, but the righteous shall live by his faith." (Habakkuk 2:4)

PRAYER: Eternal Father, grant that we may experience a faith that will illumine our dark hours with hope and fill our hearts with a song of praise through Christ our Savior. Amen.

Today in U.S. History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, May 22, the 142nd day of 1974. There are 223 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1819, the first steamship to cross the Atlantic, the S.S. Savannah, set out from Savannah, Georgia for Liverpool England. The event is marked in the U.S. as Maritime Day.

On this date:

In 1802, Martha Washington died.

In 1807, former Vice President Aaron Burr was put on trial for treason in Richmond, Va. He was acquitted the following August.

In 1813, the German composer, Richard Wagner, was born in Leipzig.

In 1868, the first train robbery in the United States was staged near Seymour, Ind.

In 1918, during World War II, German planes raided Paris.

In 1945, the Truman Doctrine to contain communism went into effect as Congress appropriated 400 million dollars for aid to Greece and Turkey.

Ten years ago: Britain declared a state of emergency in the colony of British Guiana as racial violence and terrorism rose to a new peak.

Five years ago: The Apollo Ten astronauts, Thomas Stafford and Eugene Cernan, dipped to within 9½ miles of the moon as they scouted landing sites for future Apollo flights.

One year ago: The U.S. and Britain vetoed a U.N. Security Council resolution that extended trade sanctions against Rhodesia to South Africa and Portugues territories in Africa.

Today's birthday: The actor, Sir Laurence Olivier, is 67.

Thought for today: Debt is a bottomless sea — Thomas Carlyle, Scotish essayist and historian, 1795-1881.

Tornadic winds hit Charleston

CHARLESTON — A semi-trailer was blown over and a van and mobile home destroyed about 4 p.m. Tuesday by tornadic winds which struck the area around one-half mile south of Charleston. No injuries were reported.

The semi-trailer, parked on the rear lot at the truck stop, was blown over. The trailer is owned by Baggett Transportation Co. of Birmingham, Ala.

A mobile home owned by Courtesy Ford Sales of Charleston and parked about 200 yards southeast of the truck stop was destroyed when it blew across a van into an eight- foot chain link fence. The van was also destroyed.

The trailer was the home of Mike Reihn, an employe of Courtesy Ford Sales who was not at home when the storm struck. The van was parked on the Courtesy firm's lot.

The apparent tornado also damaged some guttering and awnings attached to the truck stop. According to the highway patrol, the suspended ceiling inside the office of the truck stop was destroyed, but no damage was reported to the roof of the building.

Stan Jones, an engineer for Missouri Utilities Co. in Charleston, reported today that the winds whipped a line, breaking it in two near

High winds overturn trailer

Tornadic winds ripped through a truck stop and house trailer just south of the Charleston interchange on Interstate 57 late Tuesday. At Cross Truck stop on Highway 105 an empty trailer rig was flipped by the high winds. Some damage occurred in the offices, where ceiling panels were buckled and furniture and papers blown around.

Mobile home destroyed

A mobile home owned by Courtesy Ford Inc. of Charleston was destroyed by tornadic winds about 4 p.m. Tuesday afternoon. The home was located about 200 yards southeast of Cross Truck Stop and one- half mile south of Charleston. Mike Reihn, an employe of Courtesy Ford Inc., lived in the mobile home but was not home at the time.

How they voted on impeachment

NEW MADRID —The vote by city aldermen in a closed impeachment hearing Monday night against City Marshal O. E. Householder has been disclosed by Aldermen Bill Boyd and Ras Jones, who said Boyd, Joe Hunter, Ed LaValle and George Dawson voted in favor of impeaching the marshal.

Jones disqualified himself and did not vote, and Alderman John A. Hunter voted no to the action.

In Tuesday's edition of The Daily Standard, it was stated that Boyd, Jones, LaValle and Dawson reportedly voted for impeachment and that Joe Hunter and John A. Hunter abstained.

Impeachment proceedings were initiated against the 20-year veteran marshal following an April 21 fracas with Alderman Jones in which a gun was allegedly fired by Householder which injured both men.

Deborah Lynn Hill, 618 Dempster St., who was injured Monday in a two-vehicle accident at the intersection of Salcedo Road and North Main Street, is not the wife of Paul Hill, as reported in Tuesday's edition of The Daily Standard. She is his daughter.

She was treated for minor injuries at Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

No flooding expected South of the Cape area

No flooding is anticipated along the Mississippi River south of the Cape Girardeau and Cairo, Ill. area, according to Bob Hume, public affairs officer for the Memphis District of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Hume explained that the lower Mississippi River will not flood even if there is high water and flooding on the upper Mississippi, as long as the Ohio River remains at a low stage.

He added that at this time, they are not even anticipating the river to reach flood stages below the Cape Girardeau area. The Memphis District covers the area from Cape Girardeau to near Rosedale, Miss.

Mississippi River flood stages in the Bootheel area today were 29 feet at New Madrid, 28 feet at Caruthersville, 28.9 feet at Chester, Ill., and 32.5 feet at Cape Girardeau.

The river will crest at 37 feet in Cape Girardeau on Sunday, 31.5 feet in New Madrid on Monday and 32.5 feet at Chester on Saturday. The figures are above flood stage only at Chester and Cairo. The Ohio River has been falling but today began to rise slightly at Golconda and Paducah, but is rising at Cairo and will crest at 42 feet Monday. This will be two feet above flood stage at Cairo.

Although the river at Cape Girardeau is expected to rise above flood stage of 32 feet on Wednesday and crest at 38 feet on Sunday, engineers and levee district officials in that area are not expecting any serious flooding.

Rain from areas to the north of Southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois are swelling the Mississippi in Eastern and Southeastern Missouri this week, and a massive cleanup effort began Monday in portions of northwest Missouri as flooding rivers and streams began to recede.

The St. Louis Corps of Engineers district reports that it has entered the first phase of a flood watch during which it will continue to watch for additional rises and provide assistance to levee officials.

Hundreds were forced from their homes in portions of northwestern Missouri over the past weekend. The flooding hit communities in Clay, Platte and Jackson counties as up to seven inches of rain fell on the Kansas City area in a 48-hour period starting last Thursday night.

The Red Cross estimated that nearly 600 families suffered losses from the flood in the three counties. Damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

More rain is predicted in the Southeast Missouri area, over the weekend although this should not affect the river stages to a great extent. The forecast calls for partly

State motorists exceeding limit

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Many Missouri motorists have gone back to their bad habits after initially complying with the new lower speed limit, says Col. Sam S. Smith, superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol.

But the patrolmen are handing out more tickets than ever, and some of the magistrates and municipal court judges are complaining about the increased work load, Smith said.

"One judge even suggested we send him some secretarial help to take care of the backlog," Smith said.

In addition to letters from magistrates, Smith says he's getting a lot of letters from motorists who say other drivers are exceeding the new 55 miles an hour limit and patrol cars can't be seen.

"If the trend continues maybe an adjustment is in order," Smith said Tuesday, suggesting the limit might be raised to 60 or 65 mph on the interstate highways.

The former limit before March 4 was 70 mph. The new state law will keep the 55 mph limit in effect until Sept. 28, 1975, or until Congress or the President declare the energy crisis is over and the speed limits can be increased.

If the governor or the legislature raises the limit above 55 before the Department of Transportation and the President give the go-ahead, Missouri could lose its federal highway funds.

Patrolmen say people are going faster again after generally observing the lower speed in March and the first part of April.

"One factor," Smith said, "is that drivers are taking their chances and paying a fine, knowing the ticket won't count on their penalty points on revocation of their license."

A provision in the new law says penalty points will be assessed only on speeding violations over 70 mph.

The punishment for speeding can vary from $10 to $25 and higher, since magistrates have different formulas and usually add the court costs to the bill. Most magistrates assess so many dollars per mile of excessive speed.

Even before the 70 m.p.h. limit was lowered, the speed limit for trucks over 12,000 pounds in Missouri was 60 mp.h.

Girl almost drowned under open hydrant

A 15- year- old girl, injured Monday evening during roughhousing around an open fire hydrant, was released from Missouri Delta Community Hospital Tuesday afternoon.

City officials today issued a warning that unauthorized individuals found opening fire hydrants will be prosecuted.

Rose Mary Johnson, 206 Dixie St., was nearly drowned shortly after 5 p.m. Monday when a group of youths reportedly held her head under an open hydrant at the corner of Ford and Alabama streets.

The girl was taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital, where she was treated overnight.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Jessie Lane, said Tuesday that police officer Jessie Redd stood by while the incident occurred and did nothing to help her daughter.

However, in his report on the incident, Redd said he did not know the girl had been held under the water.

Redd said a group of children were playing around the open hydrant when he arrived. He said he told them over his loud speaker to close the hydrant, and they did.

About that time, Redd said he saw the Johnson girl "stagger out of the crowd and drop to the ground."

Before he could get to the girl, she was picked up by friends and carried into the Pearlie White home, 216 Alabama St., Redd said.

Redd said he thought the girl was all right when her mother left the White home.

Acting City Manager Bill Whitlock said three hydrants were opened by unauthorized persons in Sikeston during the recent hot spell.

Whitlock warned that this is a violation of a city law and anyone caught opening hydrants will be prosecuted. He said the warning grew out of general concern over the opening of hydrants and not out of the incident involving the Johnson girl.

Whitlock said open hydrants waste water and lower water pressure in the vicinity. If a fire occurred in the area, firemen could be hampered in trying to get enough water to fight the fire, he said.

Dexter child, 4, drowns in ditch

DEXTER — John Randall Peacock, 4- year - old son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Peacock of 616 N. Locust St., was pronounced dead at Dexter Memorial Hospital at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday from accidental drowning after falling into a rain- swollen ditch at 6:17 p.m. near his home.

According to the highway patrol, the child fell into the ditch at the corner of Locusts and McCollum streets. His body was recovered by an older brother, Mike Peacock, and Dexter policeman Danny Austell five to 10 minutes later four blocks from where he fell into the water.

Dexter police reported today that the boy was playing with three other youths, two of whom were older brothers, when he accidentally toppled into the ditch.

Mouth- to mouth resuscitation was given to the victim by Dexter police officer Jerry Johnson and highway patrol Sgt. K. L. Lancaster. He was then taken to Dexter Memorial Hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 7:15 p.m.

He was born Dec. 5, 1969 at Macon to Johnny and Faye Thomasson Peacock of Dexter, who survive.

Other survivors include five brothers, Scotty and Jimmy Peacock of Shelbina and Michael, Jerry and Phillip Peacock of the home; one sister, Rena Peacock of the home; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Thomasson of Dexter; and his paternal grandfather, Albert Peacock of Clarkton.

Services are scheduled at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at Watkins and Sons Funeral Home with the Rev. Glen Seagraves officiating.

Burial will be in Hagy Cemetery.

Ambulance garage to be on hospital lot

Missouri Delta Community Hospital has decided against building an ambulance garage on a triangular piece of ground along Plaza Drive, the Planning and Zoning Commission learned Tuesday night.

The hospital had notified the city it wanted to build a garage on a piece of land the city is buying from the state. The garage was to house two extra ambulances, while two others would be housed next to the hospital.

Instead, the ambulances will be kept in a garage built on the hospital grounds, according to Kendall Sikes, chairman of the hospital board.

Sikes said the hospital would take the land and maintain it if the city wanted to give it to the hospital. He said the land would present a constant maintenance problem to the city.

Acting City Manager Bill Whitlock said the city hasn't received title to the land yet and suggested the commission wait until it does before making any recommendations. The commission then tabled the matter.

The commission recommended the rezoning of lot 8, block 2 of the Dement and Ziegenhorn Subdivision from commercial to single family. The land is located between the Frisco Railroad tracks and lots along the north end of Davis Boulevard.

Most of the land is owned by adjacent property owners.

Bond set at $100,000 for Curtis

NEW MADRID — Judge Leo Hedgepeth set bond at $100,000 for Lindol Curtis, 39, of Portageville when he was arraigned Tuesday in Magistrate Court on two counts of murder involving the May 7 shooting deaths of his former wife, Mary Louise Curtis, 34, and her mother, Susan Gwaltney, 66, at the home of Mrs. Curtis six miles northwest of Portageville.

The case was continued until next Tuesday to allow Curtis time to obtain legal counsel. Curtis told the court he did not want a New Madrid County attorney appointed to defend him.

Curtis was returned to the New Madrid County jail Monday from Memphis, Tenn., where he had been confined in a hospital since the day after the shootings.

An all-night manhunt ended when Curtis was found about 9:15 a.m. on May 8. He was lying unconscious, apparently due to an overdose of drugs, in his car which was parked in a barn on a farm road three miles west of the former Hollywood Courts tavern north of Marston on Highway 61.

He was first admitted to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital in Hayti in critical condition, and later was transferred to Memphis.

Glenn Brimer was ordered to stand trial in Circuit Court on a felonious stealing charge following a preliminary hearing Tuesday. Bond for Brimer remains at $2,500. He is accused of stealing a 1972 model four-wheel drive pickup truck valued at $2,500, which belonged to W. L. Ramsey Jr.

A 23- year - old Lilbourn man, Lee Jackson, charged with forcible rape Friday of a 20- year - old woman, was placed under $5,000 bond when he waived a preliminary hearing Monday before Judge Hedgepeth.

Jim Gaddis waived a hearing on burglary and larceny charges in connection with a breakin on May 15 at the Canalou Learning Improvement Center, in which two typewriters, a calculator and a travel clock valued at $800 were stolen.

Gaddis was ordered to stand trial in Circuit Court and bond was set at $1,000.

Warrants have been issued for the arrest of three other men suspected in the break-in.

Gregory Stephan Hall was fined $125 on a charge of possession of less than 35 grams of marijuana. He was given a six- month suspended jail sentence and placed on probation for six months.

The case against Tom Grobmeyer, who was arrested with Hall and charged with a similar offense, has been continued. Grobmeyer posted $250 bond.

Junior Criswell was fined $50 on a peace disturbance charge. Raymond Charles Bledsoe paid the same amount on charges of careless and imprudent driving by failure to yield right of way and driving without a license.

Others paying fines on motor vehicle violations included:

Brownie Baker, careless and imprudent driving by following too closely, $25; A. T. Evans, improper registration, $25; Henry Gene Pikey, improper registration, $20; Hugh Pfaff Poultry Co., no copy of Missouri special fuel user's permit on truck, $20; Horace Lee McCormick, expired vehicle license, $20.

Manuel Alan Moit, careless and imprudent driving by failure to exercise care, $30; Ruth Elaine Koons, operating a motor vehicle with out- of - state license, $20; and Dennis LaVerne Grandprey, careless and imprudent driving by following too closely, $20.

Twenty- nine fines levied on speeding charges, resulting mostly from radar checks by the highway patrol, included:

Delotes Ray Burton, $35; John Lawburg, $25; Hershel Wayne Coin, $26; Kathryn Jean Bond, $26; John Richard Knapp, $26; A. L. Jones, $30; Millard Eugene Donaldson, $28; John Geary Murphy, $32.

MAY'S MEMORABLE MOMENTS

May brings the spring season to fulfillment with a richness of roses, the syrupy fragrance of honeysuckle, and the thick foliage and tall grass which flutter and bend in the wind, bask in the sun, and drip with early morning dew.

Perhaps it is merely age telling us, but the grass seems to have grown a little faster this May and needed mowing more often. The leaves on the oaks, elms, hickories, hackberries, gums and wild cherry trees seem a little thicker than usual, and successfully veil the birds which populate our neighborhood. It takes patient sleuthing to trace a robin to its nest, but the reward is a chance to watch the parents day by day nursing their fledglings until the moment when they push the uncertain young into the world to fend as best they can against the cats which roam back yards.

Even on May days when the sky turns black and dumps hours of showers on the land, the cool dawn seems to escape the rain. In the slanting early morning sunlight, when shadows are long but velvety soft, there is a short, treasured segment of quiet, before the rest of the world awakens and starts the wheels turning and the engines growling.

By evening, when the quiet descends again, there are mosquitos which make the out- of - doors their private province and send us scurrying for sanctuary.

But while the precious moments of May are sometimes rare and ephemeral, so too are diamonds, great wines, intimations of immortality. The best of May is well worth savoring, and storing away in a safe place in memory.

TV CHANGES

The three national TV networks, ABC, NBC and CBS, have now announced that they will make a number of changes in their programs beginning this fall season. The changes will include replacements providing viewers with 31 new shows.

NBC will make 12 replacements, CBS will make seven, and ABC will make 12.

In announcing their new programs the networks assert that their new offerings will cut down on violence and present more family shows. For instance ABC will drop its long running "FBI" and its "Suspense Movie".

Without knowing any more than this, we must say that anything, just anything, will be an improvement over most presentations on the tube today.

The long hours of slanted news, the dull documentaries, the soap operas, and the old movie repeats have for the past several years far overwhelmed some of the shows that have been outstanding.

Fortunately, some of the local stations have recently been demonstrating their own excellence in news coverage and investigative reporting. In this area they have created a lively competition that the networks would do well to follow.

The networks seem to operate on the principle that if a certain kind of show is being shown by their competitors they have to counter with the same kind of program, be it mystery, family, documentary or special. The same goes for the news programs and commentaries. The top stories all seem the same no matter what network you are watching.

The result is endless repetition. Not only do the morning, afternoon, and nightly news shows have a boring resemblance on each network, but each network appears to tell the same story over and over again.

We suggest that if TV producers are really going to give us some new shows this fall, that they get out of a rut and make a real effort to improve the quality and variety of their programs.

CHEW ON THIS FOR AWHILE

Research never ceases in the toothpaste industry. We've got fluorine toothpastes, baking soda toothpastes, flavored and striped toothpastes, whitening, brightening, cavity- fighting toothpastes. What could be next?

Would you believe Massularia acuminate? Or Fegara zanthoxyloides?

It seems that certain wooden chewing sticks used widely in Africa for cleaning teeth contain substances that inhibit dental caries. That finding was reported by microbiologist Memory Elvin- Lewis of the Washington University School of Dentistry in St. Louis at the recent 52nd general session of the International Association for Dental Research in Atlanta.

Dr. Elwin- Lewis and her husband, Washington University biology professor Walter H. Lewis, have been studying African chewing sticks since 1970. Although the sticks are fashioned from more than 100 varieties of plants in Africa, they determined that one type — Massularia acuminate, a hardwood member of the coffee family used in southern Nigeria — was particularly effective in inhibiting the growth of bacterial plaque. A similar, though lesser, ability was found in Fegara zanthoxlyoides, commonly known as candlewood.

Companies in England and India are already manufacturing dentifrices containing substances taken from these and other types of wood. Clinical studies of the dentifrices are now being conducted at Washington University.

Mother never told us about Massularia acuminate.

THE RIGHT NAME

This newspaper has been making inquiry among the editor's friends, about a very personal matter. We often have occasion to make reference to these good people around Shelbina as "colored," "negro," or "black." There is a diversity of opinion and we'd like the opinion of those whom we have not asked personally. As it is, there is at least one person for each of the first two names, and several for "black." As mentioned above, we want to use the right name when the need arises.

THE INVESTIGATED SHOULD NOT CHOOSE THE EVIDENCE

Last week at Washington, the nation saw what many consider an attempt at perversion of our court system when the head of our country attempted to say what evidence could be used, or what information made available to those investigating him.

The House Judiciary Committee, investigating the President, is the equivalent of a local grand jury or law officer who is investigating your actions or mine, to learn whether or not we have violated the law.

None of us would be allowed to sift through material related to our actions, and say what should be given to the legally constituted investigators. It would not be fair to either the accused or the accusers, and completely contradictory to our system of justice.

That, however, is exactly what the President proposed he do when he went through the White House tapes, and made copies (transcripts) of what he thought the Judiciary Committee should have.

If a private citizen attempted such a thing, he or she would promptly be charged with obstruction of the law, or contempt of court.

Ask your prosecuting attorney if he thinks he could ever get justice for anyone under a similar method here in Monroe County.

INFLATION STRIKES AGAIN

As inflation forces costs up all along the line, the price of electricity must also rise -- a fact difficult for some people to accept because electric energy is literally a life- and-death necessity. It is easy to condemn an electric company when it must go before a public regulatory agency with a request for higher prices for its service.

Although electric energy is the biggest bargain in the average family's budget, it is still an inviting political target. However, electric power companies are mortal the same as everyone else. They must earn reasonable profits if they are to continue to do the job demanded of them. One of the problems they face today and one of which the public has heard far too little is the rising cost of the fuel that turns the generators to make electricity. A major West Coast utility company reports that, "World-wide shortages of, and competition for, relatively clean fossil fuels are forcing prices up .... It is becoming more and more difficult to get enough clean fuel meeting the stringent air pollution control standards of our conventional steam plants...." This company paid $2.22 per barrel for fuel oil in January, 1970. It cost $3.61 in January of 1971 and $4.29 in January, 1972. $5.25 per barrel for January 1973. January 1974 it was even more.

This company's total fuel bill amounts to over half a million dollars per day and represents about 22 percent of the costs covered by the rates coustomers pay for their electrical energy. When rates of a publicly- regulated, investor-owned utility go up, there is always a good reason.

DEMOCRATIC APATHY

Democratic apathy, or in plain Americanese, laziness or neglect, could help defeat Democratic candidates for office this year in Missouri and in Bill Hungates Ninth Congressional District if the pattern of registration in Monroe County holds in other heavily Democratic strongholds.

You can't vote if you are not registered.

Up until last Wednesday, an estimated 1,800 people, mostly Democrats, had not registered in Monroe County.

If the usual Democratic and Republican figures apply this fall, figures that usually show around 75% to 80% of Monroe Countians voting Democratic, failure of those 1,800 to register could mean a loss of around 1,400 Democratic votes.

That could easily be the margin of victory - or loss.

It is urgent that all eligible voters register.

It is even more urgent for Monroe County Democrats to do so, if they want their party to win this fall.

An Englishman was conversing with the clerk of the Ambassador Hotel. "Here's a riddle," said the clerk. "My mother had a new child. It was neither my brother nor sister. Who was it?"

"I can't guess who it is," said the Englishman.

The clerk answered nonchantly, "It was I."

"Ha, ha!" laughed the Englishman, "I must remember that."

He then told the story at his club. Said he, "Here's a riddle, old top. My mother had a new child, and it was neither my brother nor my sister. Who was it? You can't guess? Do you give up?"

"Yes," said the friend.

"Ha, ha!" laughed the Englishman; "it was the clerk at the Ambassador Hotel."

STATES MUST ACT

The private sector -- the area in which private citizens are allowed to conduct their affairs -- is shrinking. Many of the powers of the states have been submerged in federal social programs. The fight to save some semblance of the principle of local initiative is real and grim. The only way this fight can be won is to do a job so well at the state or local level that no leverage remains for federal action.

Currently, intensified efforts are underway to standardize and improve state workmen's compensation systems. Various authorities, together with segments of the insurance industry, are working for national minimum guidelines for workmen's compensation coverages and benefits that will assist the individual states in improving their laws. As one insurance authority said sometime ago, "We believe that the involvement of the Federal Government can be positive to the extent that it stimulates the states to bring about needed improvements in workmen's compensation laws. At the same time, the heavy hand of a federal bureaucracy could easily stymie the effectiveness with which many of the state systems are operating. The ideal would be to apply just enough federal influence to bring about state action, without getting the Federal Government excessively involved in systems that require a delicate balancing of equities, incentives and administrative controls."

Workmen's compensation is an area in which many states have in actual operation some of the best social insurance systems ever devised. They provide strong incentives for safety, incentives for seeing that the injured get quality medical care, incentives for rehabilitation and for reemployment of the handicapped. No other social insurance program is so compatible with the competitive private enterprise system as workmen's compensation. Every state should endeavor to make state compensation laws conform to standards that will assure the preservation of local control of a vital, social service -- reparations for the industrially disabled.

CAPITAL NEEDS CITED BY ALUMINUM OFFICIAL

The most compelling restraint against meeting the growing demand for aluminum, according to John D. Harper, chairman and chief executive officer of Aluminum Company of America, has been its inability, under price control's to attain an adequate return on its capital- intensive investment in plants and equipment.

"Decontrol," he pointed out, "is vital to the elimination of shortages now prevalent in aluminum and other basic industries.

"Only with the ability to generate needed profits and to attract outside capital can any industry satisfy the need for its products," he remarked.

Scraps can, he noted, collected at reclamation centers, including several sponsored by Alcoa, are reprocessed into new container sheet at less than five per cent of the energy required when aluminum is first produced. The Aluminum Association reports that the expected recovery by prime producers of aluminum can scrap this year will amount to 56,000 pounds, or more than 1.2 billion cans. This represents a recovery of 15.6 per cent.

BET HE'S STILL LOST

Two hunting companions went out into a thick woods looking for the big buck they had been told was living there. After many hours of hunting they decided that they had better go their separate ways.

"Now if you find that buck or get lost, shoot three times into the air. This way we will be able to find each other," said the more experienced of the pair to his friend.

The hero of our story nodded in agreement and proceeded to go his own way through the woods. Aftermany hours of fruitless tracking, he decided he had better use the agreed-upon signal to bring his friend to his side.

He shot three times and waited, but nothing happened. After waiting what he thought was long enough for a response, he shot three more times. Still no response.

"If he doesn't come pretty soon," our lost hunter pondered, "I'm going to run out of arrows."

END WAGE-PRICE CONTROLS NOW

There are literally dozens of reasons why the government should end wage and price controls immediately but it's necessary to mention only a few to prove the case conclusively.

Controls have failed to contain inflation and have actually helped to fuel its fires.

Controls have caused shortages and disruptions of industrial production. They have hindered foreign trade. They have lowered corporate spending for new manufacturing facilities and have made business operations more costly.

Concrete evidence in the case against controls piled up in a recent survey by the National Association of Manufacturers, in which 23 per cent of 2,300 companies queried responded to a detailed questionnaire. Some 85 per cent of all firms responding predicted a serious worsening of shortages if controls continue. About two out of three respondents reported that removal of controls would encourage them to increase their productive capacity.

What better reasons does the federal government need? Congress should immediately dissolve the entire wage- price control program.

DANGER IN PORTUGAL

Preliminary news reports on the recent political and military coup in Portugal are profoundly disturbing, not only for that country but for the entire free world. The new government has openly announced that it would permit communists to join a coalition government, and the Communist Party is reportedly emerging as the best organized and potentially most powerful political force in a country which before the coup had been firmly anti- communist.

The issue which brought down the government was the continuing terrorist war in the Portuguese provinces in Africa, where a relentless and savage campaign had been waged by so- called "liberation" organizations. There has never been the slightest indication reported by any reliable observer on the scene that these terroristic "liberators" had any significant following among the people in these Portuguese territories. The conflict became an excuse to pave the way for a communist seizure of power in Portugal.

Far from welcoming the new Portuguese government, as many in the media are doing, we should recognize the real possibility that it will bring untold disasters not only upon its own people but upon Africa, both black and white. Everything possible should be done to discourage any quick evacuation of the African territories, leaving millions of inhabitants defenseless before the terrorists. We should remember the horrible massacres which occurred when the Belgians too quickly evacuated the Congo in 1960.

Those well- meaning Portuguese who are thinking of cooperating with the communists should remember the fate of others who have tried that, from Eastern Europe after World War II to Chile under Allende. HLH

THE GREAT JEWEL HEIST

WASHINGTON-- "Dick, where is my matched set of emerald and diamond necklace and earrings? The last time I saw them they were here in the safe."

"Uh, uh, uh, I think they are over in the chief of protocol's office, Pat."

"What is my jewelry doing over there?"

"Well, I don't know how to tell you this, but they're not your jewels."

"You didn't sell them to pay our back taxes did you?"

"No, Pat. You see those jewels were given to us by the Saudi Arabian royal family."

"But you told me that you gave me the necklace and earrings for my birthday."

"I did not. I distinctly remember saying that I could give them to you for your birthday-- but it would be wrong."

"That isn't what you said at all, Dick, and you know it. You said that someone had offered to sell you the set for $52,000, and you could raise the money without any trouble at all. The question was not whether you should pay it, but would the jeweler keep demanding more money later on. You said if it cost you more than $52,000, it would be wrong."

"I don't care what I said, Pat. I still knew the jewels were given to us by the Saudi Arabians."

"Why didn't you tell me that in the first place?"

"National security. I couldn't let anyone know the Saudis had given us jewels. If I did, the Swedish would start giving us jewels and there would be no end to it."

"You know, Dick, that's the only jewelry you ever gave me."

"Now, Pat, stop crying. I remember the days when you were happy to wear a cloth coat."

"It isn't the jewels, Dick-- it's the fact that you misspoke. How can I believe in your credibility if you won't even tell me the truth about my birthday present?"

"It wasn't my fault, Pat. If Maxine Cheshire hadn't stuck her (expletive deleted) nose into the White House, no one would have known about the Saudi gift. Don't you see what they're doing? They're out to destroy me."

"I understand that, Dick. At the same time it was wrong not to tell me who really gave us the jewels. It's almost immoral."

"Immoral you say? Here comes Father McLaughlin, my Jesuit priest. Let's ask him. Father, do you think I did anything wrong in not telling Pat the jewels I gave her came from Saudi Arabia?"

"Bless you, Mr. President. You did the right thing. It would have been immoral to tell her the truth.

"The Good Book says 'He that deceiveth his wife is innocent of all deception, amen.'"

"You see, Pat, even the church supports me."

"Oh well, it's not important. But what do I tell Tricia? She thinks the diamond and emerald pin is hers."

"Tell her we lost it."

"Why don't we just tell her the truth?"

"I'm sure Father McLaughlin has a good answer to that one, Pat. Father?"

"It says in the Good Book, 'When an Arab king gives a gift of jewels, the price of oil goes up $10 a barrel.' Tell Tricia you lost it."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS:

More Postal Back- Scratching

WASHINGTON-- As part of our continuing investigation of the Postal Service, we have uncovered a secret, back-scratching relationship between postal authorities and the giant Ernst and Ernst accounting firm.

The firm was second highest of eight bidders for the lucrative postal auditing contract in 1971. Yet Assistant Postmaster General James Hargrove, now retired, ignored six lower bidders and overrode the recommendations of the professional staff to give the contract to Ernst and Ernst.

Not long afterwards, Hargrove instructed the accounting firm over the telephone to recruit two top postal executives. The firm billed the postal service $20,000 for recruiting assistant Postmaster General Richard F. Gould and financial officer John R. Bowen.

Now the same two men who were hired by Ernst and Ernst are in a position to repay the favor. For they help oversee the firm's auditing of the mail system.

Indeed, Gould has repeatedly urged the Postal Service to renew the firm's contract without bothering to seek other bids and Bowen has certified the contract each time it has been renewed.

In 1972, for example, Gould wrote a memo, intended for the eyes only of his supervisors, recommending: "From our point of view, we think it is undesirable to enter into solicitation of bids again....

"It is our opinion that Ernst and Ernst has developed considerable understanding of many of our problems. We see no point to repeating the learning process and ask for your approval as we continue to work out an extension of the Ernst and Ernst contract."

Again in 1973, Gould sought another renewal of the Ernst and Ernst contract without competitive bidding. He didn't even want to bother with the formality of acquiring a financial statement from the firm.

Reports one internal memo: "On December 19, 1973, (Assistant Postmaster General Robert) McCutcheon called and advised that Mr. Gould had raised the question of the necessity of obtaining financial statements of Ernst and Ernst, as he had been requested, in connection with the renewal of the contract for accounting services." McCutcheon agreed it wouldn't be necessary.

The Ernst and Ernst contract reached $460,000 in 1973. Perhaps out of gratitude, the company's employes contributed $88,000 to President Nixon's re- election campaign. This fascinating fact was found on the White House list of secret contributors which the President's personal secretary, Rose Mary Woods, kept.

Footnote: An Ernst and Ernst spokesman denied that the Nixon contribution had anything to do with the firm's postal contracts. He confirmed that the firm received $20,000 for recruiting Gould and Bowen but rejected an inference that they showed their gratitude thereafter by seeking to renew the company's contract.

A Postal Service spokesman denied that the recruiting of Gould and Bowen was done under the table. He pointed out that the two employes do not have final authority over the Ernst and Ernst contract. He denied, therefore, that they had a conflict of interest.

ANOTHER ZIEGLERISM: White House falsehoods, like chickens, come home to roost.

On February 7, 1973, we reported bluntly: "The word has gone out from the White House to 'nail' Jack Anderson and the Washington Post. This language was used, according to the sources who heard it, by President Nixon's crewcut chief of staff H. R. Haldeman...."

The President, we added, has been "heard, in reference to the Washington Post, to explode angrily: 'We've got to take care of those people'."

This story brought an anguished response from the President's spokesman, Ron Ziegler, who insisted it was "wrong, wrong, wrong!" The White House transcripts now show who was "wrong, wrong, wrong!"

An exchange, which the White House deleted from the transcripts, has now come to light. This quotes the President as telling Haldeman and John Dean on September 15, 1972: "Main thing is the (Washington— Post is going to have damnable problems out of this one."

As added evidence of the President's vindictiveness, the transcripts show he also instructed Dean: "I want the most comprehensive notes on all those who tried to do us in....We have not used the Bureau (the FBI) and we have not used the Justice Department but things are going to change now."

At another juncture, the President snorted: "Well, one hell of a lot of people don't give one damn about this issue of suppression of the press, et cetera...."

Less than four months later, four challenges suddenly were filed against the Washington Post's TV stations in Jacksonville and Miami, Fla.

And my associate Les Whitten was arrested on the street by eight FBI agents who had been expecting me. His notes were ripped out of his hands while he was covering a story for this column and he was clapped in jail. A grand jury subsequently refused to indict him for any crime and the Justice Department was compelled to drop all charges.

Contract talks to resume

MARSTON — Contract negotiations between United Steel Workers of America Local 7686 and Noranda Aluminum Inc. are scheduled to resume Thursday in Sikeston.

A USWA international representative from Pittsburgh, Pa., and a vice president of Noranda Mines Ltd. of Toronto, Canada, will join local company and union representatives at the bargaining table.

The session will mark the fourth attempt to reach an agreeable contract to end the strike at the aluminum reduction plant, which began on Jan. 31, the day the old contract expired.

Former Hayti mayor may have misappropriated funds

HAYTI — An auditor has told Hayti officials that at least $3,777.39 may have been "misappropriated" from city funds by former Mayor Lee Roy Bain during his last term of office.

The disclosure prompted Mayor Fred Chaffin to announce Tuesday that a "comprehensive audit" of city funds for at least eight previous years will be made "to see if more money has been misused."

Bain resigned April 4 after admitting that he pocketed $2,617.30 in city funds from Sept. 20, 1973 to March 27, 1974.

The former mayor said Tuesday he "hadn't heard anything about" the results of an audit by James Hillin of Cape Girardeau, whom the city hired last month to investigate city business transactions over the past year.

The new investigation will center on eight years during Bain's term from 1956 to 1970 when there was no audit of city funds, Chaffin said.

No charges have been filed against the ex- mayor since he agreed to pay back the $2,617.30.

However, the money has not been paid back, Chaffin said, "and the city attorney has now been directed to inform him (Bain) to pay back the ($3,777.39) immediately."

The expanded audit, which will cost about $2,000, is not likely to be concluded before July 1, Hillin said.

"There has been no indication that anything irregular will be found by going back further, but the city apparently feels it should be sure," he said.

The council claims Bain pocketed the money from 13 "unauthorized" cashiers' checks.

Suspicion was first aroused in early April when City Clerk Mrs. Marcele Russell noticed "several past checks made out to people I never even heard of."

A check signed Feb. 15, 1974 was made out to "Semo Todd," while a subsequent check dated March 13, 1974 was signed "Todd Semo."

Mrs. Russell said she identified both of the names in question as having been written by the former mayor.

The audit revealed five more "unauthorized" checks than were previously known to exist, Chaffin said.

Firemen said damage to the car, owned by Robert Godis of Canalou, was minor. The fire was caused by a carburetor backfire.

Firemen were called at 1:11 p.m. to a car fire in the parking lot at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 1100 N. Main St.

Ann Landers

Time can be the best gift

Dear Ann Landers: I heard you speak in New Orleans recently. One sentence you uttered will stay with me forever. It really hit home because, like so many other parents, we have spoiled our children. You said, "The only thing kids get out of frequent gifts, usually handed to them on a silver platter, is the habit of receiving."

I know you are right, but how can parents say no to their children when money isn't a problem? Our kids see us buying luxury items for ourselves and naturally they feel that they have a right to them, too.

I grew up in a family that didn't have a pot to cook in or a window to throw it out of. It was easy for our parents to say no because we knew darned well we couldn't afford anything fancy. Nobody asked very often. What's the answer for the members of the affluent society?-- Loaded And Vulnerable

Dear L. & V.: What's the question? Do kids really want everything they ask for? The answer is, "No, they don't."

An attorney I very much admired once said the greatest gift he ever received in his life was a note his dad gave him one Christmas. It read, "Son, this year I will give you 365 hours. One hour every day after dinner. We'll talk about whatever you want to talk about. We'll go wherever you want to go, play whatever you want to play. It will be your hour." That dad kept his promise and renewed it every year.

Time spent with a child is much more meaningful than any gift that can be bought in a store. It never wears out-- and it costs nothing.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been running most of my 58 years--running away from painful childhood memories, running from one loveless marriage to another, running from hospital to hospital, operation to operation, lover to lover, job to job, city to city, pill to bottle, and even from psychiatrist to psychiatrist.

The last psychiatrist gave me the strength and courage to face the truth about myself. I was a lesbian.

I know you have been in combat with certain "authorities" who insist that homosexuality is not an illness. Well, for me it was.

Now that I have resolved my inner conflicts, I am functioning happily as a contented woman. Keep plugging away for better mental health, Ann. So many frightened, stumbling people in this world need to know there is help for them. And when you tell them, they believe it. - Running No More

Dear R.N.M.: Your letter makes a point I've tried to get across repeatedly. People who feel they aren't making progress after eight or nine months of therapy should get another therapist. Not all psychiatrists click with every patient. A competent psychiatrist often senses this even before the patient and will suggest another doctor. If he doesn't, however, and you really feel as if you're getting nowhere, ask him if he will help you make the change.

Confidential to Burning the Candle at Both Ends: Your letter was a masterpiece, but you don't want advice, honey. You just want more wax.

Is alcoholism ruining your life? Know the danger signals and what to do. Read the booklet, "Alcoholism-- Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self- addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P. O. Box 3346, Chicago, Illinois 60654.

The Code of Hammurabi was one of the greatest of ancient legal systems. The laws were generally humanitarian; however, one savage feature of the code was the retributive nature of the punishment which literally followed "an eye for an eye," The World Almanac recalls. Imprisonment was considered too expensive, corrupting to the prisoner and a hardship to dependents.

Plaque presented to Lankford

Les Lankford, left, presiding judge of the Scott County Court, accepts an appreciation plaque from O. E. Rigdon of Chaffee, secretary of Modern Woodmen of America Camp No. 5073. Lankford was presented the plaque Tuesday night during a dinner in his honor for service he has contributed to the Chaffee community.

Judge honored at dinner

CHAFFEE — Les D. Lankford, presiding judge of the Scott County Court, was honored at an appreciation dinner Tuesday night at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Lankford was also presented a plaque for his service in the Chaffee community by Modern Woodmen of America Camp No. 5073, which hosted the occasion.

In accepting the plaque, Lankford said that during his 36 years in politics, he had always tried to give something back to the people who helped elect him.

"Scott County is one of the best counties in the state," Lankford said. He also added that it ranked 24th in population and assessment.

Lankford, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for second district associate judge of the Scott County Court, has held the position of presiding judge of the County Court for four terms — a total of 16 years — and served as Scott County's representative in the 72nd General Assembly of the Missouri Legislature.

In explaining his decision for running for associate judge instead of seeking re- election as presiding judge, Lankford said he does not drive well at night any more and there are several night meetings he thinks the presiding judge should attend.

Lankford is a member of the Chaffee United Methodist Church, and as a past exalted ruler of the Chaffee Elks Club and past president of the Chaffee Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce.

He also served two terms as mayor and six terms as an alderman.

While serving as presiding judge, Lankford's name was added to the Leaders Honor Roll of the University of Missouri Extension Division, in recognition of his work iin helping develop and carry out local extension programs. He was also named to the State Aid Road Committee in 1961.

Council to seek contract release

EAST PRAIRIE — Following a lengthy discussion about the purchase of an electronic bookkeeping- billing machine from the Burroughs Corp., the City Council Tuesday night agreed to contact the company to request they be released from the contract with reimbursement of funds already paid.

The council approved the purchase of the $19,714 machine in January, and the first year's payments of $7,885 had been made, plus the purchase of about $1,000 in supplies. The balance on the machine was to be paid over a three- year period.

Mayor Lawanda Douglas stated several times that she regretted seconding the motion to purchase the machine and quoted Ken Stallings of Sikeston as saying at the last council meeting that he did not think it was economically feasible for the city to purchase the machine.

She also said Stallings estimated his company, James V. Stallings and Co., could do the city's water billing at a cost of 20 to 25 cents per card.

According to Mrs. Douglas, it would also be necessary to hire an additional employe at city hall to operate the machine.

City Manager Bob Kakac, who recommended the purchase of the machine, disputed Mrs. Douglas's opinion on hiring an additional employe, and stated, "I guarantee we won't have to hire an additional employe if the machine is kept."

Kakac presented figures which showed that the city would save money in the future by purchasing the machine and using it for water, trash and tax billing and payroll accounting, in addition to other office procedures.

He said there are about 1,100 water accounts in the city at present and the machine would eliminate a lot of work in compiling water bills when the meters are installed. The city is also negotiating for the purchase of Associated Natural Gas Co. facilities locally, and the machine would also be used in compiling gas bills for city residents.

Kakac also stated that this was one way of updating the city and stood by his original recommendation that the city should purchase the machine.

A petition was presented to the council by Mrs. Cathy Allred objecting to persons moving into a condemned house on Presson Street adjoining her property. Mrs. Allred said the house had been empty for two years, was a health hazard and not fit for habitation.

The petition also complained about a second condemned house in the area. Mrs. Allred said the man who reportedly owned the property was not paying taxes, according to county records, and that he refused to clean up a lumber pile on her property line.

Kakac said he had met with the man and informed him that he could not move into the house unless it was repaired and passed inspection. He said he would check into the matter further this week.

The council authorized Kakac to notify property owners who still have outdoor toilets that the toilets must be destroyed and residents must hook onto city sewers.

Kakac was also authorized to continue negotiating for the city's interest in the purchase of Associated Natural Gas Co. facilities in East Prairie.

A report was given on the damage to the city swimming pool from last week's earthquake. Kakac said the pool had been inspected and an estimate was being made on the damage. He was instructed to look into the cost of installing a fiber glass lining in the pool

The next regular council meeting on June was set as a public hearing date on rezoning requests. Mayor Douglas read the planning and zoning board's recommendations that a request by James O'Dell to rezone his property in block 9 of Nelson Second Addition from commercial to residential be granted.

The Planning and Zoning Board did not recommend approval of a request from Mark Archie that his property in block 2 of Doyle Second Addition be rezoned from residential to commercial.

Councilman Marion "Bud" Morgan was appointed to the Planning and Zoning Board, replacing Councilman Jones Hedge, who has submitted his resignation.

Councilman Wayne Presson voiced his objection to "people who are allowed to work out their fines leaning on their shovel handles."

He said he believed that if they were allowed to work out their fines rather than spending time in jail, they should be assigned a specific amount of work to do, and this should be enforced.

Kakac was instructed to see that the matter was enforced, if necessary, under police supervision.

"Reverence for life" is the term Dr. Albert Schweitzer used for a universal concept of ethics which he felt would demand the highest development of an individual's resources. In 1919, Schweitzer first professed that mankind must learn to become reverent toward life in all its living forms and exclaimed that "reverence for life comprises the whole ethic of love in its deepest and highest sense," The World Almanac notes.

5 injured in area traffic

Five persons received minor injuries in two area traffic accidents Tuesday afternoon and one early today, according to the highway patrol.

Shirley Jean Bruce, 24, of Senath received minor cuts of the head in a two- car accident at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday on Route A, one and one-half miles south of Kennett. The accident occurred when a northbound car driven by Juanita Loulla Harris, 45, Kennett, attempted to turn right into a private drive and was struck in the rear by the Bruce car. Mrs. Bruce was treated at Dunklin County Hospital in Kennett.

Pemiscot County man arraigned for rape

CARUTHERSVILLE— Harlen Goss, a 30- year- old local man, was arraigned in Pemiscot County Magistrate Court Monday morning before Judge Sidney Chaffin on a charge of rape.

According to Pemiscot County sheriff's officers, Goss was arrested by Missouri State Highway Patrol troopers early Saturday morning at Chute 16 near Caruthersville.

The sheriff's office said they received a report from a woman in the Chute 16 area who reported she heard a girl screaming. Troopers were notified shortly after 5 a.m., and upon investigation, they arrested Goss. At the same time, a 15- year- old girl, believed to be a niece of Goss, was taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital for treatment.

In other crime news, Hayti police arrested a 17- year- old burglary suspect last week after a chase ended on the steps of the city hall in Hayti.

The youth was identified as James Ray Powell, 17, of Dogwood. He was arrested on six counts of felonious stealing, stemming from six burglaries in the Hayti area in the past two weeks. During this time, assorted items were taken from a service station, lumber yard, dairy bar and television shop.

Police said all but $12 of the money and items stolen were recovered when Powell was apprehended.

Hayti officers Ed Hendrix, Jim Onley and Bill Hopkins spotted the youth in a car along with other juveniles but the youth jumped out and police gave chase on foot. Shortly after police thought the boy had eluded them, they spotted him catching his breath while hiding on the steps of the city hall.

Service commission dismisses application

BLYTHEVILLE — Application of Arkansas-Missouri Power Company to lease the electric system of the City of Gideon has been dismissed by the Missouri Public Service Commission at the request of the utility.

Arkansas- Missouri Power had applied for authority to lease the electric system contingent upon the sale of the system to the city of Gideon-Anderson Lumber Company.

The transaction between the lumber company and the city, which was approved by the PSC in June, 1972, has not been carried out.

The commission noted in its order dismissing the application of Arkansas-Missouri Power that the city and the lumber company now intend to transfer the system under terms not approved by the PSC.

The city and the lumber company were ordered to notify the commission by June 28 whether they will carry out terms of the 1972 order approving the sale, and, if so, when they expect to comply with it.

'Spikes Gang' starts Friday

"Spikes Gang", starring Lee Marvin, begins Friday at Malco Twin Cinema I in Midtowner Village Shopping Center. The film is rated PG (parental guidance advised; some material may not be suitable for pre-teenagers.)

A PG- rated movie, "The Pyx", starring Karen Black, is now showing at the Malco Twin Cinema I.

At Malco Twin Cinema II is "The Conversation", rated PG and starring Gene Hackman. The movie ends Thursday night and "Sugarland Express", starring Goldie Hawn, will begin Friday. "Sugarland Express" is rated PG.

The musical adaptation of "Huckleberry Finn", rated G for general audiences, starts Friday at Malone Theatre, 107 W. Malone Ave.

Now playing at Malone is "The Arena" and "Witch Without a Broom", rated R (restricted; persons under the age of 17 must be accompanied by a parent or adult guardian).

"The Bootleggers", rated PG, is being held over for a third week at the Mall Theatre in Kingsway Plaza Mall.

Delta Drive Inn Theatre on Highway 61 North has scheduled a double feature, "The Models" and "The Student Teachers", for Friday night. Both movies are rated R. The same features will be shown again Saturday night, followed by "Far Horizon", an R-rated film.

On Sunday night, two R-rated films, "The Swinging Wives" and "Gods Little Acre" will be shown.

Musical adaptation of 'Huck Finn' opens Friday

Filming of "Tom Sawyer" on Missouri locations during the summer of 1972 was only about half completed when the producer, Arthur P. Jacobs, became convinced of the correctness of his hunch that a musical adaptation of Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn" would make an excellent film, too.

Indeed, his enthusiasm for Twain's writings as film fare was such that he was determined to produce it regardless of how "Tom Sawyer" did at the boxoffice.

United Artists, an entertainment service of Transamerica Corporation, and The Reader's Digest provided the financing, with the former handling distribution. And, now that film can be seen starting Friday at the Malone Theatre, 107 W. Malone Ave.

The title role is played by Jeff East, and leading roles are played by Paul Winfield, Harvey Korman and Jean Fay. The Arthur P. Jacobs Production of a Reader's Digest Presentation also stars David Wayne, Arthur O'Connell, Gary Merrill, Natalie Trundy and Lucille Benson. J. Lee Thompson directed the film.

The Sherman brothers, Richard M. and Robert B., who had written both screenplay and songs for "Tom Sawyer," perform a similar function on "Huckleberry Finn." They read the book several times separately, and committed to paper their individual approaches.

When they finally met and compare notes they discovered they were in virtual agreement as to how it could best me made palatable to contemporary audiences of all ages, yet retain the essence and spirit of Twain's middle-America of some 150 years ago.

While "Tom Sawyer" was set entirely in Hannibal and environs, "Huckleberry Finn" details a trip down the Mississippi River with sequences set in six different towns, plus assorted locations in between. Since it was not feasible economically to move a large cast and crew plus tons of equipment that often, production designer Philip Jefferies and locations manager William Venegas had to come up with a single principal location site capable of doubling for the others.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Agents of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. chalked up record first quarter sales of $940.7 million, president Francis E. Ferguson told the company's board of trustees at its quarterly meeting.

Sales were 11.3 percent above the previous record first quarter of $845.5 million last year, according to Ferguson. For the quarter, the average size policy increased 6.3 percent from $24,619 in 1973 to $26,166 in 1974.

Nearly two thirds of the total insurance sold in the first quarter involved new plans that did not exist in NML's product line before 1968, Ferguson said.

New sales helped push NML insurance in force to $26.3 billion, a 10.8 percent increase since March, 1973.

The net rate of investment earnings, before income taxes, for the 12 months ended March 31 was 6.24 percent, up from 5.96 percent a year ago.

Assets rose 3.9 percent to $7.17 billion at March 31, maintaining NML's position as the seventh largest of the nation's 1,800 life insurance companies.

For the year to date, total benefits left at interest with the company increased 24.9 percent to $21.4 million from $17.1 million. These benefits included maturities, death benefits and dividends. Ferguson said this increase in funds left with the company reflected new settlement options that were introduced in April, 1973, and provided more competitive interest rates.

New sales, earnings record set

HAZELWOOD — Wetterau Inc. set new records in sales and earnings for the fiscal year which ended March 30, reported Ted C. Wetterau, president and chairman of the board.

For the year Wetterau Inc. had net sales of $618,446,000, compared to $526,835,000 a year earlier, which was an increase of 17.39 per cent.

Net earnings for the fiscal year were $7,198,000, versus $6,287,000 a year ago, for a gain of 14.49 per cent. Primary earnings per common share were $1.40, up 17 cents or 14.35 per cent over the $1.23 per share earned a year earlier, after adjustment for a four per cent stock dividend and the acquisition of J. Zinsmeister Co. and Bi- Go Markets, Inc., as a pooling of interests.

For the fourth quarter, net sales were $163,425,000 compared to $134,588,000 for the year earlier period. This was an increase of 21.43 per cent. Net earnings for the quarter were $1,728,000, versus $1,470,000 for the comparable period a year ago. This represents a 17.60 per cent gain. Per share earnings for the quarter were 34 cents compared with 29 cents a year earlier, which was a rise of 17.45 per cent over the same period of fiscal 1973.

Wetterau Inc. has completed 44 years of consecutive sales increases and 37 straight years of earnings increases, giving the company first and second place respectively among all publicly held firms in those categories.

Because of the adoption of a new corporate identification program, Wetterau, Inc. will submit to its stockholders on Aug. 13 a proposal that the company name be changed to Wetterau Incorporated.

P'ville approved for insurance

PORTAGEVILLE— The Department of Housing and Urban Development Friday approved the city of Portageville for federally subsidized flood insurance, according to information received from 10th District Rep. Bill D. Burlison in Washington.

The city became eligible by adopting land use and control measures designed to guide future developments away from flood hazard areas and set future construction and improvement standards.

Burlison said all structures used for residential, business, religious or agricultural purposes and structures occupied by nonprofit organizations are eligible for flood insurance coverage.

The National Flood Insurers Association has designated MFA Insurance Companies, 1817 W. Broadway, Columbia, Mo. 65201, as the service company.

Agents should contact the company to obtain policy forms, rates, flood insurance manuals and any other necessary information.

Book Review

EDWARD II
by Christopher Marlowe
(Bard 18648/$.75
176pp.)

Of the works of Essayest and dramatist Christopher Marlowe, Edward II, which was never performed in his lifetime, marks the height of his ability as a playwright. Records show that it is unlikely that he and his contemporary, William Shakespeare, ever met; nevertheless, many scholars have noted Shakespeare's indebtedness to Marlowe, and particularly to EDWARD II.

World News in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some House Judiciary Committee members say President Nixon's discussion of payments to keep Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt Jr. quiet is the most damaging evidence they have heard yet in their impeachment hearings. A tape of the March 21, 1973, talk between Nixon and former White House counsel John W. Dean III convinced some Democrats on the committee that Nixon ordered Dean to pay Hunt $120,000 in hush money. "It was a command. It was said very positively," said Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Calif.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has reaffirmed the authority of Watergate special prosecutor Leon Jaworski to pursue White House tapes through the courts. Jaworski complained to the committee that the President "is challenging my right to bring action against him to obtain evidence." However, the committee said the prosecutor "is acting within the scope of the authority conferred upon him..."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has rejected and probably killed standby emergency energy legislation that would have given President Nixon rationing powers in the event of a renewed crisis. The 207 to 191 vote against the standby measure centered on a provision designed to roll back domestic crude oil prices to pre-embargo levels.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense spending supporters say the House may vote to reduce U.S. military aid for South Vietnam to $900 million and cut 100,000 men from U.S. forces overseas. Supporters, reportedly including White House lobbyists, were pessimistic on both the Vietnam aid and the U.S. overseas troop cut votes. They said they believed they could narrowly defeat an amendment by a coalition of military spending critics and economy bloc congressmen to cut the bill $733 million across the board.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Thousands of British troops in combat gear swarmed through Belfast today, ripping down barricades built by Protestant militants to back up their general strike. It was a quick reply to claims by strike leaders that they controlled Northern Ireland. The move came on the eighth day of a crippling strike called by the Protestants to protest British efforts at giving Ulster's Roman Catholic minority a voice in government.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Israeli warplanes bombed two Lebanese villages Tuesday on Mt. Hermon's western slope. The Tel Aviv command said the raids were on "guerrilla concentrations," but other reports said there had been no guerrilla activity in the area. The Lebanese Defense Ministry said the raids brought the Arab death toll from four Israeli attacks in the past week to about 60. Tuesday's bombings came less than 24 hours after Premier Golda Meir announced a systematic Israeli war against the guerrillas.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's underground nuclear explosion has set off a chain of international repercussions that Prime Minister Indira Gandhi might find hard to control. The blast boosted her prestige at home, but it posed an immediate danger to detente with Pakistan and angered key Western aid donors. "There is no question that in the long run governments will probably hold back some aid because they feel that India has diverted money and resources from more important economic priorities," one diplomat observed.

Committee delays action on law council proposal

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The state Fiscal Affairs Committee has refused to "kill" the Missouri Law Enforcement Assistance Council by delaying any decision on a proposal that would enable the council to increase its staff.

Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth, president of the council which administers some $13 million in federal anticrime funds in Missouri, told the committee Tuesday that if it did not approve the plan, federally-funded anticrime programs throughout the state would be cut off.

After a short discussion. The committee deferred action on the problem, which revolves around what council officials have said is an inadequate $26,500 appropriation for the operation of the council during the coming fiscal year, indicating there is no need to make a quck decision on the matter since it involves a situation which will not go into effect until July 1. Danforth asked for an answer by the first week in June.

The state legislature cut the counil's appropriation for the coming year by $4,000 over this year's funding, Danforth said, apparently in an attempt to force more money into the staffs of the 19 regional law enforcement units in the state. Council director Robert Gruensfelder said, however, that the cut in the money will force a staff reduction from 33 to 20 employes at a time when the federal government has called for an increase in staff to 43.

The proposed plan would permit the council to require each of the 19 regional units to provide matching funds to the state based on a formula involving the federal funds each region receives.

"We have the legal power to do this," Danforth said of implementing the plan, "but I don't believe we should undo what the General Assembly has done."

He said the council will implement the plan only if the committee gives its approval, either directly or tacitly.

"The council can't be at loggerheads with the General Assembly," Danforth contended. "The General Assembly should have the opportunity to kill the program if it wants to."

Unlss the council staff is increased to 43 persons, federal officials have said they will cut off all anticicrime funds to the state.

In other budget-related action Tuesday, the committe:

—Authorized the Highway Patrol to borrow $1.4 million from the highway fund to pay for patrol pay raises beginning Aug.13, which sere authorized by the legislature during the last session. The pay hikes will cost an estimated $138,000 a month, Supt. Sam S. Smith said, indicating the patrol will seek an emergency appropriation to recover the funds next January.

—Approved the use of federal funds to raise the monthly secretary salaries in the state Department of Education by $50 across the board. Officials said the boost was needed because the current low pay has made it difficult to hire or retain employes.

—Authorized use of federal funds to hire a state director of instructional television, who would coordinate and work with public schools on the uses of educational television.

—Released the final $83,700 in the public defender contingency fund, but appointed a fivemembers subcommittee to review operations of the statewide program so that procedures can be improved for budgetary predictions in the future.

—Delayed action on a request from the state Educational Department to use federal funds to increase salaries of some professional employes to comply with the equal pay provisions of the federal government.

—Denied a request from Northwest Missouri State University to use about $5,100 for general repair work at the school after the money was left unspent due to an ccounting error. Committee Chairman Rep. Clarence Heflin, D-Independence, said it "looks to me like they found some money and want to spend it."

—Refused to endorse implementation of a $2.2 million federal grant for rehabilitation pilot projects in the state Corrections Department. Sen. Richard Webster, R-Charthage, said that grant had been obtained without any legislative knowledge.

5 shots fired as thieves flee

Otis Morris, 318 Ruth St., surprised two burglars in his home about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and fired five shots at them before they fled.

Morris told police he arrived home to find two young men in his living room stealing his stereo and speakers. He said both ran toward the back door.

Morris said he fired five shots at them with a .32-caliber pistol as they fled. They ran out the back door and into the alley.

Police said the shots apparently did not hit either man.

Jones said utility company crewmen worked on the lines until 4 a.m. today, although power was restored before then.

About 7 p.m. Tuesday night, an unconfirmed tornado funnel was sighted in East Prairie. Another tornado was reported about three to four miles east of Bernie. Police today said they had received no reports of damage in that area, although some residents reported some tree limbs down.

Farm income drops fourth straight month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Incomes received by the nation's farmers dropped 12 per cent in April, the fourth straight month of decline, the Commerce Department reported Thursday.

The department said the drop in income was due to a decline in prices received by farmers for livestock and crops, combined with rising production costs.

Farm income in April was at an annual rate of $25.2 billion, down from $28.6 billion in March and $29.1 billion in February.

But over-all personal income of Americans increased in April for the third consecutive month, climbing $7 billion to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $1,108.4 billion, or a gain of six-tenths of one per cent.

The personal income figures are important because they show how much money Americans will have to spend on goods and services in months ahead. The figures include income from all sources, including wages, dividends and interest.

Indy suit

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — There will be a 500- mile auto race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Sunday, a top Speedway official says, despite a $1 million lawsuit to keep it from going off on schedule.

"We will have a race Sunday," Chief Steward Tom Binford promised. "The only person who can stop it is God, and we haven't talked to Him."

Suit was filed Tuesday in Marion County Superior Court in Indianapolis by attorneys Wright Hugus Jr., and Don A. Tabbert on behalf of seven angry car owners.

The suit also seeks a temporary restraining order halting further activity at the track until the case is heard.

Judge Frank Symmes set a hearing for early today.

The action stems from last Saturday's rain- shortened time trials that left 11 cars at the line when the track closed for racing. That deadline, speedway officials say, was set down in the Speedway entry blank signed by each of the 61 entrants who actually brought cars to the track.

The car owners who did not get an attempt to qualify contended the deadline should have been extended to give all of the 50 cars that had been certified an opportunity to make the 33- car field.

The pleas were denied. And Speedway officials turned down further requests for a reopening of qualifications.

Speedway officials hope the court hearings won't delay Thursday's carburetion tests. Binford, who succeeded controversial Harlan Fengler this year, said, "Of course we will do whatever the judge say we should do."

Plaintiffs are Roy Woods Racing, Carl Gehlhausen, Larry McCoy Sr., K&L Racing, Webster Racing, Rasmussen Racing Products Inc. and Grant King Racing.

King said later he had not given permission to use his name in connection with the suit. King, whose No. 1 driver, Tom Sneva, already holds a third- row starting spot, said, "I don't need to go to court to tell the Speedway people what I have already told them in person. They didn't treat these people right."

Snava and driver Jim Hurtubise, who also qualified, and Parnelli Jones, 1963 Indy 500 winner and owner of the cars of starters Mario Andretti, Al Unser and rookie Jan Opperman, were among those who said the drivers were wronged.

A suggestion by Hugus and Tabbert that the Speedway add a 12th row to the race also was turned down.

The Speedway also had offered the plaintiffs a chance to reopen the trials if they obtained signatures from owners or drivers of already qualified cars. But Hugus and Tabbert said they fell far short of the necessary names. Last- place starter Larry Gannon refused to sign.

WFL opener July 10

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)— The enthusiastic World Football League has announced a 20- game scheduled for each of its 12 teams. The slate, made public Tuesday, starts with five games on Wednesday evening, July 10, followed by a nationally televised game July 11. And they all count in the standings.

Portland is at Philadelphia, Hawaii at Florida, Southern California at Birmingham, Houston at Chicago and Detroit at Memphis to start the season. Then Jacksonville hosts New York to begin the television series, carried nationally by TVS Sports Network.

Hawaii deviates from the Wednesday night- Thursday night schedule by playing all home games on Sundays.

The National Football League, whose season extends well into 1975, doesn't kick off until July 26, when the champion Miami Dolphins play the College All- Stars in Chicago. Then it'll be six more weeks of NFL preseason games, which don't count in the standings.

The WFL schedule concludes with a simple, three- game playoff schedule. It works this way: Winners of the league's three divisions, Eastern, Central and Western, plus the second- place team with the best record enter the playoffs. The four teams will play two semifinal games Nov. 20 and 21, with the championship game a week later.

IBEW, Harts win openers

A six run seventh inning rally broke open a 1-1 deadlock against IBEw and the Eagles, sending IBEW to a 7-1 opening season Jr. Babe Ruth victory at VFW stadium Tuesday night. Harts turned back Home Materials 11-5 to also open their campaign with a big win.

IBEW bunched four of its seven hits in the seventh frame to defeat Roger Cloud and give Dewayne Barnett the win.

Tim Chappell blasted a two run double and later scored to spark the seventh inning uprising.

Harts raced to a 10-1 lead through three innings and coasted to their five inning 11-5 victory over Home Materials in the nightcap. The game was called because of the league's time limit.

Timely hitting was the key to the Harts victory. Despite only five safties, doubles off the bats of Bill Hampton and Tim McAfee provided the punch.

Allen Davidson claimed the win with a four hit performance. Don Francis was tagged with the defeat.

League action resumes Friday night.

Farmer stops Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) -- Tall Ed Farmer has pitched 17 innings for the Philadelphia Phillies and already returned the National League club's investment.

The 6-foot-4 right- hander worked 6 1-3 of the total Tuesday night and choked off the St. Louis Cardinals on four hits in a 4-2 Phils triumph.

It boosted his early season record to 2-0, provided the Phils a 1½-game lead in the N.L. East and left Manager Danny Ozark in a euphoric mood.

"He's already paid for the price we gave for him," declared Ozark in respect to $20,000 in waivers the Phils gave the American League's New York Yankees on March 21.

"We had either to give them a player or the money in exchange," he added. "I wasn't even interested in his record that much. I just liked the way he threw."

Relying on a sharp-braking slider, Farmer rode a four- run Phils burst in the first inning to a 4-1 lead through six innings.

Then, noting later that "my legs started to cramp up on me," he walked pinch-hitter Jim Hickman with one out and followed by walking Lou Brock.

Ted Sizemore drew still another walk from reliever Eddie Watt, Reggie Smith lefted a sacrifice fly for the second card run and Ted Simmons walked to fill the bases.

Only after Mac Scarce came on for his 22nd relief appearance and retired Bake McBride were the Phils able to relax.

"You just look out there and say what the heck," said Ozark, shrugging off eight walks his pitchers yielded compared to four Cards hits.

"I'm really tickled about McBride," he added, however, of the key out contributed by the 25- year-old Scarce.

Cards loser John Curtis, 2-5, and five mound successors walked only five accompanying four Phils hits, but two of each brand came in the first.

Dave Cash and Mike Schmidt crowded walks around a Cards error and Greg Luzinski followed with a line drive sacrifice fly.

The hard- pressed Curtis then worked a 2-0 count on the Phils' Bill Robinson and his next pitch, a high curve, was rifled 395 feet for a home run.

Phils accomplishments in the game included a pitchout that enabled catcher Bob Boone to nail the fleet Brock attempting to steal his 29th straight base in the fifth.

"I knew it was a pitchout," noted Brock, who had earlier swipted his 28th and scored. "I just didn't get the right lead," he said. "The name of the game is execution. The throw had to be ankle high to bet me and its was."

GENERAL

SHELTON, Conn. — Louis A. North, a major league baseball player from 1920-24, died at the age of 84.

HOUSTON — Billy Welu, nationally known professional bowler, died at his home, apparently of a heart attack, at the age of 41.

BASEBALL

BOSTON — Veteran Detroit first baseman Norm Cash was suspended for two days and fined $100 by American League President Lee MacPhail for his altercation with umpire Bill Kunkel Monday night in Milwaukee.

TENNIS

HAMBURG, Germany — Brian Gottfried and Eddie Dibbs of the United States each scored victories in the Hamburg International Tennis tournament. Dibbs posted a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Barry Phillips - Moore of Australia, and Gottfried swept Steve Krulevitz 6-3, 6-4.

$175,000 purse

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)— Dave Hills here. And Lee Trevino. For this particular golf tournament, no one else really matters.

The stormy, outspoken Hill and the flamboyant Trevino are the only two entries necessary to assure the success of $175,000 Danny Thomas- Memphis Classic.

It's a unique situation on the pro golf tour. And it's a happy thing for Memphis. This event suddenly found itself sandwiched in between two "designated tournaments," tournaments in which the game's leading players must compete. They aren't required to play here. And most of them aren't.

They've got Hill and Trevino. Between them, they've swept the last five Memphis titles and have won six of the last seven. The tournament has prospered and improved each of those years.

Last season, when Hill scored his fourth Memphis victory and Trevino was only one shot behind, the event set its all- time record with attendance of 116,900 for the week, comparing favorably with any stop on the tour.

And they're ready to go again.

Trevino, the Memphis winner in 1971- 72, had a strong fifth- place finish in last week's Colonial National at Forth Worth, Tex.

Hill has a particular liking for this town, this tournament and the 7,193-yard, par 72 Colonial Country Club course that will be the site of the 72-hole event beginning Thursday. He won the tournament in 1967, '69 and '70 at the old Colonial course, then won at the new one last year.

"That's my town and these are my people," he said.

They'll be challenged by the always- dangerous Masters champion, Gary Player of South Africa.

Other standouts include 1974 title- winners Hubert Green, Leonard Thompson, Jerry Heard, Lee Elder, Allen Miller— who tied with Trevino for second here a year ago— and little Red Curl, who scored a surprise triumph in Fort Worth.

3 Sikeston men to attend convention

JOPLIN — The annual convention of the Missouri grand council of United Commercial Travelers of America will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at the Ramada Inn in Joplin with the Carthage council as hosts.

Presiding at the convention sessions will be H. P. Hobson of Carthage, grand counselor (state president).

Expected to represent Sikeston at the convention are Terence N. Sander, Monroe R. Blackwell and J. W. Gore.

The convention will open Thursday afternoon with committee meetings and a mixer Thursday night. The opening session and election of officers will be Friday with the annual banquet Friday night. The convention will conclude Saturday morning with the installation of officers, including Clyde A. Brown of Perryville as state president.

Representing the international organization, which has more than 255,000 members in the United States and Canada, will be Justin L. Carroll of Saginaw, Mich., a member of the order's international board of governors. He will be the featured speaker at the Friday night banquet.

The United Commercial Travelers of America has as its number one civic project work with the mentally retarded, and during the past 10 years has awarded more than 3,000 scholarships to persons who wish to further their education in the field of mental retardation, contributing more than $500,000 to this program.

The organization also carries on youth programs, works with local cancer campaigns, conducts poster contests on safety with special contests in schools for the mentally retarded.

Delegates and their wives from throughout Missouri are expected to be present for the Joplin convention and annual banquet.

$154,616 paid

The Scott County Welfare Department disbursed funds totaling $154,616 during April, with the greatest part being paid to the aid to dependent children program.

Breman Montgomery, county director, reported state supplemental payments of $19,842 were paid to 653 persons. These persons were transferred to the new federal program supplemental security income payroll and also remained eligible for a supplemental payment from the state. These received payments under the new SSI program and the state supplemental program.

A total of 306 persons received state supplemental payments only, totaling $15,968. This group previously received old age assistance, permanent and total disability or aid to the blind payments and were not eligible for the new SSI program.

KANSAS CITY— John DeArman, former principal of Dexter High School, has accepted a position as assistant superintendent—instruction of the North Kansas City school district, it was announced this week.

In Dexter, Supt. Thurston Hill said that he had received the resignation of both DeArman and his wife. Mrs. DeArman has been a teacher in the elementary system.

Supt. Hill said that no successor has been named.

Norton to head MS drive

ST. LOUIS — Daniel S. Norton of 923 Park Ave., Sikeston, an attorney, has been named chairman of the 1974 MS Hope Chest Campaign in the Sikeston area for the sixth year. The announcement was made by C. Warren Reed, chairman of the St. Louis Area Chapter of National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

The appeal is scheduled between Mother's Day and Father's Day, with volunteers raising funds to help support needed services for multiple sclerosis patients living in the Sikeston area and to aid the national society's research program.

Because multiple sclerosis, a crippling neurological disease of the central nervous system, most often attacks young adults between the ages of 20 and 40, this year's campaign is built around an "Athletes vs MS" theme

The idea, according to Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame's football coach who is the 1974 campaign chairman for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, is to involve athletes at all levels ... professional, collegiate, high school and local ... in a comprehensive program designed ultimately to raise millions of dollars for MS research and patient services.

Since its organization in 1946, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society has allocated more than $22.5 million in research grants and fellowships to study multiple sclerosis.

Currently, Washington University of St. Louis has $465,000 in cumulative grants. In 1973, the St. Louis Area Chapter provided over 33,000 units of service to MS patients in the 72 counties of eastern Missouri and southern Illinois.

Strong named juvenile officer

KENNETT — Stephen C. Strong of Cape Girardeau has been appointed juvenile officer for the 35th Judicial Circuit, comprising Dunklin and Stoddard counties, according to an announcement by Flake L. McHaney, judge of the 35th Judicial Circuit.

Strong fills the vacancy created by the death of Ralph Lloyd and was selected from a list of 38 applicants. He and his wife, the former Sue Standly of Perkins, plan to move to Kennett in the near future.

Strong, 26, was reared in Cape Girardeau. He graduated cum laude from Southeast Missouri State University in May 1971. He then entered the Institute of Contemporary Corrections and Behavorial Sciences at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Tex., to work on a master's degree in criminology and corrections.

He completed this work in May 1973 and graduated with honors. Upon completion of his thesis, he will have qualified for his master's degree.

Strong has served as a special juvenile probation officer through appointment of the juvenile court of the 32nd Judicial Circuit of Missouri and has participated in the special probation officer's program there. He has served in the Naval Reserve and has had active duty in the Navy.

Judge McHaney stated that he feels fortunate in having been able to interest a person with Strong's qualifications for the position of juvenile officer. Melvin Williams of Bloomfield will serve as the deputy juvenile officer, having been appointed to this position in February. Each of the two counties will now have a juvenile officer permanently located in the county.

It is expected that Strong will assume his duties on June 1.

"A number of factors," Eagleton said, "foremost among them the inadequate level of assistance under the GI bill, have kept many veterans from utilizing all of the assistance to which they were entitled during the eight- year period.

Can you keep up with your family's beef appetite? Fortunately, the table demand for this fine meat can be satisfied when shopping and cooking skills are sharpened.

Beef dollars can be stretched in a dozen or more different ways. Each one will help you build appetizing, nutritious, satisfying - and economical - meals with beef.

PLAN BEFORE YOU SHOP

Good meals at the table begin with a pencil, paper and the food ads. For planning is the firm foundation upon which good meals are built. It is important to all shoppers who want to get the most for their food dollar as well as to those limited by a tight budget.

KNOW YOUR BEEF CUTS

Knowledge of the wide variety of beef cuts is important to identifying good buys. Get to know the many different cuts available and consider all of them, even those less familiar ones. A steer is not all sirloin steaks and rib roasts, and the buyer intent on stretching the dollar looks to beef cuts from the chuck, round, shank and short plate.

THINK "COST PER SERVING"

The smart shopper considers cost per serving rather than cost per pound. Some boneless cuts priced a bit more are better buys because they have little waste. Keep in mind it's cost per edible portion that really counts.

4 servings per pound for ... boneless cuts such as beef for stew, ground beef and cubed steak

3 servings per pound for ... tip and boneless rump roasts; round, top loin and rib eye steaks

2 to 3 servings per pound for ... sirloin steak and boneless roasts from the chuck

2 servings per pound for ... arm and blade pot-roasts; most steaks with a bone

1 to 2 servings per pound for ... short ribs; shank cross- cuts

To determine the approximate cost per serving, simply divide the price per pound by the number of servings per pound that cut will provide.

CONSIDER ALL COSTS

Your beef selection is not the only key to an economical dinner. Avoid spending the money saved by a wise beef choice on costly recipe ingredients. Out -of - season produce, gourmet spice packets and sauces, foods in limited supply - such items can blast the budget of the careful beef buyer.

MAKE YOUR FREEZER WORK FOR YOU

A freezer allows shopping flexibility which permits you to take advantage of advertised beef specials. Also, when an especially attractive beef cut of appropriate size catches your eye, you can capture it to freeze for the future.

HANDLE WITH CARE

To protect those valuable beef investments — "Handle with Care!" The first step is to bring beef purchases home promptly and place them in the meat compartment or coldest part of the refrigerator. Fresh beef prepackaged for self- service may be stored in the refrigerator in the original wrapping for two days.

TURN DOWN THE HEAT

Low heat is the secret to both successful and money- saving meat cookery. Avoid high temperatures and overcooking that shrink a roast and rob it of natural juiciness. Whether roasting, braising, broiling or cooking in liquid, keep the temperature low to moderate.

COOK IT RIGHT

Correct cookery prevents waste that often accompanies a poor choice of method. Every beef cut can be made tender and delicious when matched with the proper cooking method. Less - tender cuts, the backbone of budget meals, can provide delicious dinners.

USE RELIABLE ECONOMICAL RECIPES

Cooking from scratch saves money, so now's the time to prepare some of grandma's penny- saving favorites. But for sure success, follow modern tested recipes unless you are an accomplished cook. Creative failures can be expensive.

CONSIDER TIME SAVINGS

Time as well as money is at a premium nowadays, making quick recipes in demand. Unfortunately convenience foods that provide shortcuts often also add expense. But it is possible to conserve both time and money simultaneously.

CREATE WITH LEFTOVERS

Leftover cooked beef is money in the refrigerator so treat it with respect. It's an investment that pays the biggest dividend when used promptly while that popular beef flavor is at its best. When cooked beef is wrapped securely in plastic or foil and refrigerated, a second meal is well on its way.

BUY FOOD VALUE, NOT FRILLS

Be sure you buy the food value your family needs when you buy food. All of the nutrients necessary for good nutrition can be obtained from the foods offered in today's supermarket. Unfortunately, however, too much of the family food budget is spent on frills - sugared cereals, carbonated beverages, snacks and other foods supplying more calories than nutritients. Increasingly poor food choices in the last decade have reduced the quality of many American diets.

Nutrition - wise shoppers select foods from the Basic Four Groups first: (1) meat, (2) milk, (3) vegetables and fruits, (4) bread and cereal. Two or more servings per day from the meat group are recommended.

- ½ cup catsup
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, defrosted

Press meat over filling at both ends and place loaf, seam side down, on rack in roasting pan. Spread top of loaf very lightly with catsup, if desired. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for 50 to 60 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before slicing and serving. Follow same procedure for forming second pinwheel loaf and place on pan in freezer. Quickly freeze until firm. Wrap securely in foil or freezer paper. Seal, label, return to freezer and store for maximum of 2 to 3 weeks at 0°F. or below. What's the law?

The case of the innocent victim

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Looey entered a money exchange office to cash a check and got himself cashed in instead. A hold- up man followed him into the building and, putting a gun to Looey's head, warned the proprietor of the exchange that unless he opened up the teller's cage, he'd blow off Looey's head.

As fate would have it, however, the proprietor elected to protect his jack rather than his customer. And, as he suddenly dropped to safety behind a bullet- proof window, the frustrated gunman, as warned, let luckless Looey have it.

When the smoke finally departed, so had Looey. He died almost immediately and his widow, blaming the money exchange proprietor, sued the latter for her husband's demise.

"He had a duty to exercise care for the safety of his customers," she complained in court, "and he didn't do it. He elected to protect his money, instead of my Looey."

"That's not exactly so," was the defense. "If I had opened up the cage, the gunman could still have shot up the place. And, in that event, we might have all been lost. Not only the money."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you hold the money exchange proprietor liable for Looey's demise?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that the proprietor of the money exchange had no duty to Looey to accede to the gunman's demand. And even if he had, noted the judge, whether his acquiescence would have spared Looey's life was, at best, speculative. As a matter of fact, concluded the judge, had he opened up the cage, he would have succeeded only in exposing himself to the danger of bodily harm without any assurance that the risk to Looey would have been reduced.

(Based upon a 1974 Illinois Supreme Court Decision)

Coffee Corner by Cherie

Reasons why you don't flush your little boys down the commode —

because they bring you bouquets they've picked from the neighbor's yard -

because they help feed the family by bringing home smelly fish and bloody game for you to clean-because they mow the middle of the yard on the riding mower but generously leave the edges for you to trim with the push mower-

because they eat up all the extra stuff in your icebox, like chocolate whip cream pie or banana pudding-

because they always clean up their rooms after a severe beating-

because they never tell a story if they're pretty sure they're going to be found out-

because they never cry over "spilt milk", only spilt soda pop-

because they are always quick to go to their rooms and study if they know they're already in trouble with you-because they always feed the dog when you threaten to sell it-but mainly, because they sometimes tell you you're beautiful (and once in a while it's even when they don't want something).

The Prayer

From the upper room

"Behold, he whose soul is not upright in him shall fail, but the righteous shall live by his faith." (Habakkuk 2:4)

PRAYER: Eternal Father, grant that we may experience a faith that will illumine our dark hours with hope and fill our hearts with a song of praise through Christ our Savior. Amen.
